PRICE FREEING SEEN DELAYING NEW RECESSION

U. S. Economists Also Believe Federal Budget Can Be Balanced.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 — While the collapse of OPA's price barriers will jack living costs up a few percentage points, government economists insisted today it also would:

1. Delay any business recession, and

2. Help President Truman balance the federal budget.

Despite widespread reports of surging prices, these economists predicted the general cost of living would not climb more than five per cent, and probably not that much, before stabilizing.

That compares with a 12.8 per cent rise between VJ-day and mid-September — before OPA's decontrol movement went into high gear—and a 44.7 per cent rise since this country went to war.

Considered High

The five per cent guess, made by one OPA economist, was considered too high by some other government experts interviewed. The average price of goods sold over-the-counter might go up that much, they said, but if rents and such services as laundry, cleaning and repairs hold reasonably ing, clothing and feeding a family ing, clothing and feeding a family won't jump that far.

However small the comfort may be to consumers who yesterday saw some soap go up three cents for a small cake, the bigger flow of dollars going into the businessman's till will increase the government's tax revenue.

One official said it "definitely improves" the chances that Mr. Truman will make good on balancing his $41,000,000,000 budget for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Not According To Plan

It won't happen in just the way Mr. Truman wanted it to, however. His aim was to cut federal spending and thus make the government stop its inflationary course of pouring out more money than it takes in.

This effort will go forward—especially with a Republican congress bent on cutting government costs. But now there will be additional inflation anyway, which in turn will produce more tax revenues, which in turn will help the administration make ends meet.

Even if the new congress cuts tax rates, as some G O P. leaders proposed to do, the chances of balance are still good, the official insisted. For one reason, a tax cut would not be felt in reduced revenues for some time after the new rate begins; for another, when national income rises, federal revenue goes up in direct proportion, but federal expenses do not.

To Delay Depression

On the score of a business turn down, which many economists and others have predicted for next year, authorities say Saturday's decontrol order is virtually certain to delay it. They reason that so long as price trends are strong, merchants will tend to lay in more inventory and keep factory wheels turning.

However, the consensus is that the death of price control will make a recession more likely to come, ultimately. With prices of building materials going up, builders are likely to delay starting of new homes and buildings. Therefore, the construction industry may not be ready to go at full speed in keeping payrolls and employment high when factory activity slopes off.

Child Killed In Michigan School Mishap

Boiler Explosion Wrecks Section of Building; 16 Others Injured.

By The Associated Press

BARODA, Mich., Nov. 13—One child was killed and at least 16 others injured today when a boiler explosion wrecked a section of a consolidated school at this little western Michigan fruit belt community.

Walter Ruppel, 13, died in a St. Joseph, Mich., hospital less than three hours after the blast ripped off one wall and the roof of the two story building.

An estimated 260 pupils were in the building when the explosion occurred but the school superintendent said all have now been accounted for "as far as we can ascertain."

Twelve of the students were hospitalized with serious injuries, including crushed and fractured arms and legs, but none was reported in critical condition.

The explosion occurred while one of the victims, 16-year-old Eldon Nitz, fired the basement boiler shortly before noon during the absence of the school janitor, his uncle, on a hunting trip.

Teh west wall of the two-story building was destroyed and the roof caved in on the seventh grade classroom where the victims were seated.

Mrs. Frederick Williams, wife of a congregational minister, said she was at work preparing luncheon in the parsonage across from the two-story school.

"I heard the explosion, which shook my home," she said. "Then a huge puff of smoke filled the whole school yard Then I saw the west wall and the roof fall in. I heard children screaming and I ran across the street."

When the debris blocked her approach to the school, Mrs. Williams ran back to her home and gave the alarm to the telephone operator in Baroda.

Police cars, fire apparatus and wrecking equipment converged on Baroda, a village about 1,000 in the southwestern Michigan fruit belt, from nearby Benton Harbor, St. Joseph and Niles, Mich.

Twelve of the children taken from the debris and moved to hospitals, all seventh and eighth grade students, were: Thelma Schultz, Larry Barker, Josephine Kolberg, Dean Ott, Eldon Nitz, James Radde, James Brunke, Robert Prenkert, Frederick Schaller, Marilyn Nitz, Gerald Windfield and Alice Johns.

Their teacher, Mirka Spacek escaped with minor injuries.

Four Others Injured

Four other students, whose names were not learned, were in the basement at the time of the explosion and were treated for minor burns.

Although a number of the victims suffered from flash burns the building did not catch fire.

Nels Erickson, a telephone repairman, said he visited the scene and watched rescuers pull 7 children from the debris.

Several Seriously Hurt

He said he knew of no deaths but that "several of the children were seriously injured."

The blast occurred in the base-

ARRESTED IN FILM STRIKE RALLY. While representatives of film studio unions sought a solution of their jurisdictional disputes, the striking conference of studio unions threw a massed picket line of 400 members around a Culver City studio, and 36 of the marchers, including Louis Whitman, a picket captain shown above, were promptly arrested by city police. The authorities acted under a recently enacted ordinance requiring a city permit for parades. (International News Soundphoto)

NOTICES SENT TO OPA STAFF

Dismissals Effective Here Dec. 12 for All Excepting Rent Supervisor.

Notices of dismissal, effective Dec. 12, have been issued to all members of the Marion OPA office staff with the exception of the rent control clerk, according to a report today from the local office.

The dismissal notices follow suspension of operations of the Marion office Nov. 4 in a nationwide OPA order cutting the agency's paid field staff by nearly one-third.

The notices, received from the district OPA office at Cincinnati, will terminate jobs for six persons there, three survey and three price control clerks.

Rent Supervisor Retained

Only local OPA employe to retain her job will be Mrs Frank Bradley of 223 East Washington street, in charge of rent control Whether or not the rent control headquarters for Marion county will continue in the board's present offices at 169½ East Center street, is not known.

Among those receiving notices of dismissal was Mrs. Robert Conley of 466 South Forest street, chief clerk, who began working for the board when a full-time paid staff for the Marion area was authorized in March, 1943, and

Taft Favors Rent Curbs Until "Next February"

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 31—U. S Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) favors continued rent control "until next February or March."

Speaking at a convention of the woodwork jobbers service bureau yesterday, Taft said rent controls should not be lifted at present, and added: "If they are, rents will jump so high that we may have state decontrols slapped on."

Declaring that "removal of government controls will solve most of our present business problems," Taft told delegates from nine states it "may be possible to remove rent controls by February or March, but not now."

Plane Missing In California

Eight Passengers, 3 Crewmen Aboard Airliner Overdue at Burbank.

By The Associated Press

BURBANK, Calif., Nov. 13—A Western Air Lines plane, with eight passengers and a crew of three aboard, was missing today—apparently in the snowswept mountains north of here.

The two-motored Douglas DC-3, inbound to the terminal here from Salt Lake City, was last reported at 6:24 a. m. when the pilot informed the control tower by radio that he was bringing the craft down for a landing. He was over Newhall, on the upper fringe of the San Fernando valley, at 9,000 feet.

A Western Air Lines spokesman said at 8:45 a. m.—announcing that the craft was missing—that it had enough gas to remain aloft only until 7 a. m.

The flight, No. 23, had stopped at Las Vegas, Nev., at 1:45 a. m.

Western Air Line's spokesman identified the pilot as Capt Gerald Miller, the copilot as Ted Mathis and the stewardess as Joan Fauntleroy.

Names of the passengers were not immediately available.

The airline announced that the sheriff's aero squadron, the Coast Guard and the army's search and rescue unit had been alerted.

A heavy storm has been raging over Southern California for two days, but during the night had abated sufficiently for planes to resume using busy Lockheed air terminal here. Snow was reported generally above the 4,000-foot level.

Truman To Visit Naval Academy, Attend Game

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—The White House announced today that President Truman would sail to Annapolis aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg Friday, leaving Washington shortly after noon.

On Saturday Mr. Truman will inspect the naval academy, address the midshipmen and attend the Penn State-Navy football game.

He will drive back to Washington after the game, leaving by automobile at 5 p. m. in time to attend the annual dinner of the White House News Photographers' association at 7 p. m.

Violence Again Marks Movie Studio Strike

Hand Grenades Thrown for Second Successive Night; No Casualties.

By The Associated Press

For the second successive night there was violence in the two months old AFL jurisdictional dispute in the Hollywood movie strike as home-made grenades damaged the homes of two non-striking film workers.

Today's bombings, in which no one was injured, were the fifth in the last two nights. Front porches of the two residences were shattered, windows blown in and plaster loosened.

The latest violent outbreak came following announcement that the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, biggest of the warring movie labor combines, would not participate in conference with representatives of the striking union "while these acts of violence continue."

Marked by Fighting

The strike started as a jurisdictional dispute between the IATSE and the Conference of Studio Unions, and has been marked by fighting on the picket lines in which scores have been arrested. The CSU called a mass meeting of its 7,500 members for tomorrow to intensify strike activities.

In other top-ranking labor disputes across the country the efforts were toward ending current and threatened strikes.

Prospects appeared bright for partial settlement of the six weeks old maritime strike on the Pacific coast following announcement by federal conciliators that striking CIO Marine Engineers and shipowners had agreed in principle to a compromise union security contract clause. Two other undisclosed issues, however, remained to be settled.

Conciliators said they believed that settlement of the engineers' strike would lead to an end of the walkout by the other two striking unions—the CIO Longshoremen's and the Warehousemen's union and the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots union. The proposed compromise was to be submitted to both parties today.

Parley Efforts Continue

Other conciliators continued efforts to end the 197-day old strike at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. plant in West Allis, Wis., and the 24-day old walkout by 1,400 AFL Pilots against Trans-World Airline.

In New York, CIO Transport Workers union leaders went ahead with plans to poll members tonight on a strike against the city's unified transit system but the threat of a work stoppage diminished due to action by municipal agencies and other labor groups.

The board of transportation gave the 33,000 employes of the city's subways, elevated, bus and trolley lines $6,000,000 in wage increases retroactive to July and

CIO Electrical Union Calls For Wage Increases

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 — The United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union, third largest unit in the CIO, called today for new wage increases to offset "skyrocketing prices."

The union did not define the dollars and cents or percentage increases it expected to ask in its demand for a second round of post-war wage adjustments.

CIO-UE won pay increases of 18½ cents an hour for most of its 600,000 members earlier this year. It indicated the wage program would be worked out jointly by leaders of the UE, and the CIO Steelworkers and United Automobile Workers.

The declaration of wage policy was contained in a statement adopted at the close of a two day meeting yesterday by 200 delegates of workers from such plants as General Electric, Westinghouse, Sylvania, General Motors electrical division and RCA.

The statement said that in the union fight for higher wages "we contribute to the basic economic stability of the entire economy, and to lessening the threat of depression arising from lack of the people's purchasing power."

It accused "American big business (with) waging a gigantic propaganda campaign to spread the lie that price increases are caused by wage increases."

The union was engaged in a long strike this year against General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors electrical division.

OWNERS SCOUT POSSIBILITY OF LEWIS TRUCE

Return to Private Management Sought; UMW Head To Appear Later.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—The five top spokesmen for the bituminous industry conferred with Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug today on the prospects for a contract with John L. Lewis which would avert a paralyzing strike and permit the government to release the soft coal pits.

The producer representatives, invited by Krug to discuss the entire situation in advance of his meeting with Lewis this afternoon, were cheerful but silent as they entered the conference.

The session was the first at which they had been consulted on returning the mines since a one day meeting in September which accomplished nothing. The government took over the soft coal workings last May and Krug contracted with Lewis to run them.

Perform As Usual

The operators actually have been performing about the same functions as always, but have the titles of mine managers under the coal mines administration.

Krug called today's meeting with the operators to feel them out on whether it would be possible for them to come to terms with Lewis directly and take back the mines.

With only three days left for further negotiations—and eight days before the expiration of the Nov. 20 deadline set by Lewis—the administration thus sought to avoid a repetition of last spring's paralyzing coal strike.

Lewis has stated flatly that the present government-union contract covering his 400,000 diggers would be "void" on Nov. 20 unless his demands are met for a new pact. Under Lewis' formula, he would give five days advance notice on Friday of his intention to scrap the current agreement.

Caught Short on Coal

With time running out, an industry spokesman declared meanwhile that the country's major steel companies have been caught short on coal supplies.

The industry officials told a reporter that U. S. Steel Corporation had only a two-week supply, Jones and Laughlin 10 days, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube a week.

In rapid succession, Secretary of Intelior J. A Krug scheduled a conference with representatives of the "Big Five" operators and then with Lewis himself.

At the initial conference, Krug was expected to broach the possibility of an agreement between the operators and Lewis, and then, three and one-half hours later, take it up directly with the miners' boss.

Takes Dim View

Commenting on the outlook, Edward R. Burke, president of the powerful Southern Coal Producers association, said:

"It doesn't look too hopeful, but it is the only sensible thing to do."

The government has been running the 2,500 soft coal mines since last spring's strike, when Krug and Lewis made a contract putting the miners to work for the coal mines administration.

Burke's opposition centers on three features of the Krug-Lewis agreement: (1) the unionization of supervisory workers, (2) the five-cent royalty on each ton of coal for the union welfare and retirement fund, and (3) the federal mine safety code.

The other operator representatives invited by Krug are Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland, chairman of the joint conference of miners and operators; Harry M. Moses, Pittsburgh, president of the H. C. Fricke Coke Company and representative of the Steel company "captive" mines; Charles O'Neill, Altoona, Pa., head of the Northern Appalachian group of operators and principal spokesman for all bituminous operators; and George F. Campbell, Chicago, president of the Illinois Coal Operators association.

These five represent the bulk of the producers in the country.

Call Public Meeting To Air Views On Hospital Bonds

Marion citizens will have an opportunity to air their views on expenditure of a $200,000 bond issue for City hospital additions and alterations at a meeting at Central Junior High school Saturday night at 7:30.

The public hearing was called by the city council at its regular meeting last night in an effort to learn public sentiment on the matter.

The bond issue, authorized in a special election in November 1941, will expire Dec. 31 if the bonds are not issued.

Bonds Authorized

Authorization to issue the bonds was given the administrative branch of the city government by the city council in January 1942. They were never issued, however, since materials were unavailable at that time.

Later, the federal government, aware of the need for expanded hospital facilities here to care for an expected increased personnel at Scioto Ordnance Plant, provided funds with which the present temporary addition to City hospital was built. The federal government spent $140,000, to which the city added $35,000.

Council will meet Monday night to consider results of the public hearing. Mayor Harry S. Dowler has indicated that he will take steps to issue the bonds in accordance with the directive of the 1942 council, unless the present council passes an ordinance repealing the issue.

Run for 10 Years

City officials estimated that a tax levy of 0.7 of a mill over a 10-year period will be necessary to finance the bond issue.

Louis E. Michel, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, addressed council members last night, informing them that the Chamber's civic affairs committee has been studying the problem Robert T. Mason president of the Chamber of Commerce, indorsed council's action in calling a public meeting.

CLEVELAND STUDENT NURSE DISAPPEARS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13 — The disappearance of Miss Joyce M. Garner of Seville, O., an attractive 18-year-old student nurse at Cleveland's City hospital, still puzzled police and state authorities today.

Miss Garner boarded a train for Cleveland Sunday night after spending the weekend at Ohio university, Athens. Since then she has not been seen by her parents, friends or associates at the hospital.

Detectives Robert P. Hinds and Robert Gerrity said the girl's parents had not heard from her and could offer no reason for her disappearance.

The red-haired, blue-eyed student nurse left Cleveland last Saturday to attend the Baldwin-Wallace-Ohio university football game at Athens as the guest of Donald Gorham, an Ohio university student and neighbor of Miss Garner in Seville.

Gorham said he put the girl aboard a train for Cleveland at 5 p. m. Sunday. The train arrived here at 1:30 a. m. Monday. Miss Garner did not report to the hospital. Charles T. Dolezal, hospital superintendent, yesterday reported her to the missing persons bureau.

Miss Jean Gregg, 18, also a student nurse and friend of Miss Garner, accompanied her Saturday as far as Columbus. She could give no reason for her friend's disappearance.

At the time she boarded the train, Miss Garner wore a black felt hat, gray coat with black collar, white sweater with gray and red checked skirt and brown shoes.

LOS ANGELES STORM BRINGS ONE FATALITY

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13—One death and numerous injuries were blamed today on the season's first big storm, as heavy snows mantled scores on mountain roads, floodwaters closed highways and bridges and in some lowland areas threatened to lap into houses.

More rain, with snow in the high reaches, was forecast throughout today.

The normally-dry Los Angeles river, butt of many a joke for its dryness, was roaring over two bridges near its mouth at Long Beach. There the spreading Hamilton bowl, a floodwater sink, overflowed and blocked the coast highway leading to San Diego.

North of Long Beach, in the farming communities of Norwalk, Hynes and Clearwater, muddy waters rose to within a few inches of some homes during the night, but appeared to be dropping early today. Acres of pasture land were under water and many garages flooded.

Mountain snowfall ranged up to 26 inches at big pines. A party of motorists was marooned on the rim of the World highway, above San Bernardino, between the resorts of Lake Arrowhead and Big Bear Valley.

Man Gets Divorce But Keeps Mother-in-Law

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 — Harold Barnard was divorced by his wife Ruth yesterday but his mother-in-law is going to continue to live with him.

Mrs. Barnard's mother, Mrs. Lucy Clement, told Superior Judge U. S. Schwartz she had decided to live with her son-in-law, rather than with her daughter, and take care of the three Barnard children.

UN Asked To Limit Site Hunting to Four Areas

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 13—The United States today asked the United Nations to limit its hunt for a permanent headquarters site to four areas—New York, San Francisco, Philadelphia and Boston.

The New York area would include the suburban Westchester-Fairfield location first selected for the peace capital site by the general assembly in London last winter.

Under the United States proposal, a sub-committee would begin immediately a study and inspection of the sites and report back to the headquarters committee in time for formulating a recommendation to the assembly in the current New York session.

$1,400 Gone In Week's Spending Spree, Marion Youth Returns To Land In Jail

An 18-year-old Marion youth was charged today with the theft of $1,400 from a parked automobile Nov. 5, after he returned home broke early this morning and was turned over to the sheriff by his mother.

He is Harold David Walker of 896 Kenton avenue. In a hearing in municipal court this morning he pleaded guilty to grand larceny charges and was bound over to the grand jury on $2,500 bond.

His arrest by Sheriff LeRoy Retterer brought to an end a 12-day spending spree which took Walker to Columbus, Detroit, Chicago and Ft. Wayne, accompanied on part of his trip by a young woman companion.

In municipal court this morning, the youth, a former employe of the Erie Railroad at Wadsworth, told how he took the money from the automobile of David K. McKinney of the McKinney Motor Sales on the night of Nov. 5. The car was parked at the rear of Central Junior High school. Walker said he had tried to open several cars which were locked before he found the McKinney car. He took the locked money bag containing the $1,400 from the glove compartment and burned a hole in it with his cigaret lighter, he said. He then went to a movie at the Marion theater. After he came out of the show he said he counted the money and found there was over $1,400.

On Buying Spree

In Wadsworth the following day he purchased a large variety of items, including eight wool shirts, six pair of trousers, ties, shoes, a suit case, a radio and record player, a shaving set, jewelry, two pen and pencil sets and a watch, the sheriff said.

From Wadsworth the youth came back to Marion and in the evening took a taxi cab to Columbus, giving the driver a $50 tip. The youth related to officers that he had stayed in Columbus that night in a hotel where he registered as Robert Johnson.

In Columbus the following morning he went on a shopping expedition, purchasing a fur coat, a cameo set, three women's suits and one dress, for his companion which he mailed to her sister.

Later in Columbus, the sheriff said, Walker purchased a second fur coat and another dress which he brought back to Marion with him, returning by taxi last Thursday.

His companion met him at the Union depot, according to the sheriff, and the two took a bus to Detroit, where they registered at a hotel. The following day they went to Pontiac, Mich., where they visited friends and then returned to Detroit by bus.

Went to Chicago

The sheriff said on Sunday the two went to Chicago, where they visited other friends. It was in

Senator Bilbo Injured Slightly in Accident

By The Associated Press

POPLARVILLE, Miss., Nov. 13—Sen. Bilbo (D-Miss), reelected this month, was shaken up and bruised last night in an automobile accident here and spent the night in the Poplarville hospital.

His secretary reported this morning the senator had suffered only a "bump on the nose" and that he would return to his farm house today.

The secretary said the car crashed into the rear of a truck while the senator's vision was blinded by lights of some passing cars. Bilbo's car was damaged considerably.

"Nobody But Veterans Will Fight Like That"

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—It was 2 a. m., at the crossroads of nightlife in Greenwich village.

A tall young man, his clothing awry, stood swaying drunkenly in the middle of the sidewalk. A short stocky man bumped against him in passing.

"Tryin' to start somp'n," said the tall man and swung his fist into the short one's face.

Hal Boyle

And with no more words they clashed savagely and in silence. Fists thudded against chins, and then they were both down on the sidewalk, tearing and kicking each other.

Neither went for the face then. They tried for the groin with knuckles, knees and feet, swirling over and over in tangled fury. There was no sound but grunts and the impact of flesh against flesh. They were both young men, well-matched in strength and agility.

A crowd gathered slowly and watched impartially. No one thought at first of interfering. In crowded New York people don't like to stick their nose in other people's quarrels.

Finally a woman began to scream:

"Stop them somebody. They're hitting below the belt."

Men Shuffle Feet

The men in the crowd shuffled their feet and looked around, each waiting for his neighbor to do something. There was no policeman in sight. One man started forward hesitantly but his wife grabbed him and yelled in terror. "Abe! Abe! Don't get mixed up in it!"

She pulled him back. Everybody looked again at the two panting men on the sidewalk. A taxi drew up and stopped. The cabby watched the fight philosophically.

"Veterans," he said. "Both of them. I can tell the veterans every time."

The tall man was slowly beginning to tire. Liquor had dulled and slowed him. The short man methodically worked him into position. He brought his knee up hard once, twice, three times. A look of agony came over the face of the tall man. He lay contorted and pain paralyzed.

Pounds Head Slowly

The short fan warily straddled him. He took the helpless tall man's head between his hands and leisurely pounded it against the sidewalk. It sounded like coconuts falling off a peddler's wagon.

When the tall man went limp, the short one turned the head sideways and deliberately rubbed it back and forth on the concrete until one side was a red pulp.

No one in the crowd protested. Some women turned their eyes away for a second, but looked again.

The short man, winded but satisfied, rose slowly to tired feet. His beaten foe came to and wobbled upright. Shredded skin hung from his bloody face.

"C'mon, I'll buy you a drink," he mumbled to the short man. They headed for a bar, walking slowly on legs shaky with fatigue. The crowd began to ebb away.

"They both hit below the belt," said the indignant lady.

"I knew they was veterans," said the cabby, admiringly. "Nobody but veterans fight like that."

A miscellaneous shower was held for Mrs. Karl Borg, an English war bride now residing in Morral with her husband, when the W.S.C.S. of Morral Methodist church met recently at the home of Mrs. Wade Wright. Mrs. Borg was presented many gifts for use in their new home in Morral which is nearing completion. Mr. Borg is a former resident of Harpster.

During a short business meeting, the nominating committee made a report and projects of the society were discussed. Scripture was read by Mrs. Mae Wood, and prayer was by Rev. E. I. Obee.

Those present with the honored guest and hostess were Mrs. Buford Jones, Mrs. L. E. Neal, Mrs. Earle Schertzer, Miss Helen Butcher, Mrs. John Marshall, Mrs. Robert Schertzer, Rev. and Mrs. E. I. Obee, Miss Wilma Sloat, Mrs. Nancy McIntire, Mrs. William Hughes, Mrs. Myrta Sloat, Mrs. Mae Wood, Mrs. Sam McWherter, Mrs. Evelyn Thacker, Mrs. Kay Miller, Miss Beverly Schertzer, Miss Ann Schmelzer, and Don and Dick Wright.

Barberry Plants In Wyandot Co. Destroyed

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Nov. 13—A total of 5,763 rust-spreading barberry bushes have been destroyed in Wyandot county, said County Agent S. C. Cashman, speaking of the current state department of agriculture eradication campaign. Over 2,000 of these plants were found and destroyed within the towns and villages of the county while the rest were located in the rural areas of the county in all parts except the northwest corner.

Barberry bushes, Mr. Cashman said harbor spores of the black stem rust, one of the most destructive diseases that attack wheat, oats, barley and rye.

Only the common barberry which grows wild in this part of the country, Mr. Cashman concluded, is a harborer of the rust. The Japanese barberry, used extensively in landscape work, is harmless.

Hardin Co. Youths Win Area Speech Contests

Special to The Star

KENTON, Nov. 13.—Three Hardin county youths placed first in three area Prince of Peace Declamation contests held Sunday evening. At Kenton Miss Marjorie Ann Pfeiffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pfeiffer, won first with her oration, "The Fire o Prometheus." Duane Lillier, county winner last year placed second at Kenton with his oration, "Peace in Our Time."

At Ada Loretta Darnell took first place and Ruby Baughman was second. In the Dola contests Shirley Clark took first and Patricia Matson placed second. The three first place winners will meet to decide the county winner Dec. 8, at a place to be chosen.

BRIDGE WORK NEAR CALEDONIA FINISHED

Abutments Built on County Road.

Completion of a bridge abutment project on county road 179B one-half mile west of Caledonia is announced today by Marion County Engineer Walter W. Johnson.

The project, which began Sept. 3, included construction of two new abutments on the steel bridge spanning the Bee Run ditch. Estimated cost was $5,261.

Approximately 300 tons of stone were used in building the two 15-foot high abutments. Two crews were on the job, one on each abutment, in order to complete the work before rainy weather arrived. Deepening and widening of the Run ditch made the new abutments necessary, the county engineer said. He added that county road 179B, which was closed while the work was in progress, is now open to traffic.

DOCTORS WARN CONSTIPATED FOLKS ABOUT LAZY BILE

IT IS SAID constipation causes many human discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few. BUT DON'T WORRY—

For years a noted Ohio Doctor, Dr. M. Edwards, successfully treated scores of patients for constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now sold by druggists everywhere. Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful! They not only gently but thoroughly cleanse the bowels but also perk up lazy bile secretion to help digest fatty foods. Test their goodness TONIGHT without fail! 15¢, 30¢. Follow directions. All druggists.

Rotarians at Galion Hear Lutheran Pastor

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 13—Speaking to the Galion Rotary club Monday night at the dinner-meeting at the United Brethren church, Rev. Herbert S. Garnes Jr., of First Lutheran church, said "If the United States is to build on a firm foundation for a new peaceful world order, the people of the United States must collectively also build their own lives on the firm foundation of Christian principles." Rev. Garnes' subject was "Foundations of a New World Order."

The club voted to give $100 to the Galion Community Chest fund.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Nasal Disorder

FEW things are more irritating or disagreeable than a continuous discharge from the nose. Fortunately, however, this condition seldom endangers health.

As a matter of fact, the normal nasal mucous secretion has a protective action, and only when it contains dangerous germs is it harmful when swallowed. Most people become conscious of it only when, because of some change in the lining membrane of the nose, the mucous secretion becomes excessive, unusually thick, irritating, or bad smelling.

According to Dr. Arthur W. Proetz of St. Louis, there are many things which may cause such changes. He believes that the use of drugs over a prolonged period may change a minor disorder of the nose into a prolonged or chronic condition. For example, when certain preparations are put into the nose which shrink the lining membrane, drying out of the tissues results. This is followed by congestion in the nose and a change in the mucous secretion. Then, too, Dr. Proetz believes that certain chemical substances put into these drugs to preserve them may also have an irritating effect.

Many doctors are of the opinion that excessive smoking also will tend to increase the quantity of mucus in the nose and throat, as well as cause undue irritation. In addition, the use of alcoholic beverages may cause the blood vessels in the nose to dilate and the lining membrane to swell.

If persons live in overheated air with little moisture in the air, water evaporates quickly from the mucus in the nose. This mucus then becomes thickened and accumulates in the nose. Dust also at first causes an increase in the mucous secretion because of the irritation of the nose, but later this mucus becomes thicker. There are certain diseases which also may change the mucous secretion in the nose. These include diabetes, kidney inflammation, colitis, and constipation. Even such things as fear and prolonged anxiety may cause the nose and throat to become dry.

Thus it can be seen that there are many things which may lead to changes in the nasal secretion and, particularly, to the formation of an excessive amount of mucus. The affected person should have a complete physical examination and also a careful study by a nose and throat specialist. When the cause of the difficulty is found, effective treatment may be carried out.

Analyst Says World Grasping At Any Straws

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The avidity with which the world grasps at the slightest conciliatory gesture from Russia provides its own commentary.

There is no way of knowing what Mr. Molotov means with his statement that Russian and American views on disarmament can be harmonized.

If Russia is coming around to the view that arms reduction means more than ideological expansion, that atomic control is a far greater safety factor than strategic position outside her borders, that peace through submitting to inspection is worth more to her people than the concealment of any Communist shortcomings or depletion by war, then the statement means a great deal.

Have Hoped for Development

American delegates to the United Nations have been hoping all along, of course, that a day would come when Russia and the western world would agree on some point wholeheartedly, and thereby break the log jam. And everybody feels, of course, that if disarmament could be effected it would sweep away all the fears which hold the nations apart. That's why all the enthusiasm over the Russian proposals.

Mr. Molotov's statement Monday night was on a different plane from the one at the opening of the United Nations assembly. It was more in line with Stalin's statement that there can be international control of atomic power. To that extent, Molotov offers measure for hope. Russia's final stand on such guarantees as inspection will really tell the story.

In the meantime, Great Britain has made some comment on the entire world situation which is as concrete as a pillbox. The Conservative party has pledged support to the Labor government's proposal, a revolutionary thing in Britain, for peacetime conscription.

Churchill Okays Draft

"The world situation has not improved," said Winston Churchill for the Conservatives. "More than one third of Europe is held under Soviet control. The Soviet military frontier is on the Elbe. It is impossible to forecast what the future fate of France will be."

The government's decision on conscription, he added, "is one they would certainly not have reached without good and grave reasons."

The British government is working for general peace, said Prime Minister Attlee, but "we are not making as quick progress as we could have hoped. We cannot afford to take risks with the safety of the country."

Britain Usually Canny

Great Britain has a penchant for knowing what is going on in the world when Hitler was saying "I have no further demands," and when Chamberlain was saying "Peace in our time" it was Winston Churchill and Duff Cooper who cried "Bunk!" and there are those who say that Chamberlain himself knew better, but was trying to bolster the nerves of some of the smaller states of Europe.

It could be that a little less of "everything's going to be all right" or "everything's going to pot,"—depending on which politician is saying what at the time—and a little more reliance on the record of actions, would give Americans a saner view of what is going on.

Now! You can get 'HIGH-SPEED' RELIEF from MUSCULAR ACHES-PAINS

Soreness and Stiffness

Most muscular aches and pains are due to local congestion pressing on the nerves. So here's why the sensational new Musterole Brand Liniment brings such FAST relief—and why, when you use Musterole Liniment once, you'll never go back to slow-acting remedies.

The minute you apply powerfully stimulating Musterole Liniment you can almost feel it bringing a supply of fresh warm blood to sweep away the local congestion pressing on your nerves and thus soothe irritated nerve endings and speedily relieve your pain. Such blessed comfort is yours!

Musterole Liniment is made by the makers of the reliable Musterole rub—famous for distress of colds. Stainless, quick-drying. Inexpensive, too, because a little goes so far and does so much.

15-Minute Hair-do Here, Beautician Says

By The United Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo — The day has arrived when a busy housewife, with possibly 15 minutes to spare, can walk into a beauty parlor and emerge with a new coiffure for the evening's festivities.

At least, that's what Harry Robbins, billed as "America's foremost authority on hair," says. Robbins, with the aid of his protege, 19-year-old Basil McDaniel of Oklahoma City, is demonstrating what he calls a dry-hair comb-out, which gives milady a new hair-do in 15 to 20 minutes.

Paper was first used in China around 100 A.D.

URGES HIGH FARM OUTPUT

National Grange Master Advocates Heavy Production Despite Surpluses.

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 13—Continued high farm production and elimination of acreage-control regulations were advocated by Albert S. Goss, master of the National Grange, as the organization opened its 80th annual convention today.

In an address for delivery to delegates from 36 states, Goss warned that under the high production program surpluses were inevitable but asserted the problem was not insurmountable.

The world needs the food this country produces and when surpluses occur, the machinery for their disposition must exist at the internal level, he said.

Goss struck at acreage control as a "regimented economy of scarcity hard to defend." He said further that he doubted the legal authority of the secretary of agriculture to "inject the acreage allotment program as a requisite for receiving price supports."

There are only three courses open, he said: reduced production through acreage controls; a program of letting nature take its course with surpluses forcing lower prices which in turn cuts production; or a recognition that "plentiful production is in the public interest" with occasional inevitable surpluses being diverted to inferior uses.

Increased consumption, he said, holds part of the answer to the problem of disposal of high production, with research into food distribution a factor through lowering prices for consumers.

Goss said the proposal of Sir John Orr, director general of the food and agriculture organization, for a world food board to buy when prices are low and sell when they are high "needs further study to make it practicable," but if it can be put into workable form it would be "a practical means of nations working together to solve problems which have heretofore led to great distress, strife and even to war."

Turning to other topics, Goss said the Grange favored including farm workers in the social security program so far as old age and retirement benefits are concerned; believed placement of transient farm labor should be under the department of agriculture, and continued to believe in a co-operative farmer-owned self-help credit system for agriculture.

Docile Pupils May Be Maladjusted, Psychologist Says

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 13—The docile student who caused the teacher no trouble may be severely maladjusted, a psychologist told the American Public Health association's convention today.

In a prepared paper on the teacher's role in recognizing child maladjustment, Morton A. Seidenfeld, director of psychological services for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, New York, said "orderliness, politeness, participation in prescribed activities and freedom from overt misbehavior are all too often regarded as evidence of good adjustment.

"Actually, such conformed types of behavior are not infrequently only a superficial veneer," Seidenfeld declared. "Such conformity and attention to good behavior may conceal severe maladjustments and deep-seated disturbances that would be apparent if attention were focused on the 'whole child.' Such conformity may actually serve to increase the psychic stress which the child seeks to hide."

Early recognition of abnormalities in mental behavior can help prevent serious mental illness, Seidenfeld said, adding that a teacher can help this by (1) a psychologically healthy attitude toward herself and her pupils and (2) acquaintance with signs and symptoms commonly associated with difficulty in meeting mental stresses and strains the child encounters in his social sphere.

Collects 25,000 Pencils, Aims at One Million

By The United Press

CHICAGO — William Hausman, 49, loves pencils.

He has 25,000 of them, and hopes to build his collection up to 1,000,000.

Hausman is one of the exhibitors at the Hobby Fair, where all sorts of oddities strike the eye.

He has pencils that look like guns, clothespins and flashlights. There's one a quarter of an inch long, and one 12 feet long.

"And they all write," Hausman said. "It doesn't count unless they write."

ERIE BEGINS BAGGAGE SERVICE AT CHICAGO

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13.—A new ... Erie Railroad coach ... passengers going be... Chicago where a change of ... necessary, will be put in... operation Nov. 17, R. B. Rog... passenger traffic manager, an... today.

The new service, the first of its ... any railroad, relieves ... spenders of the inconveni... transferring their hand... from Erie trains to the ... station of any other rail... serving Chicago.

"The service is more flexible ... greater advantages to ... passengers than coast-to... Pullman car service," Rogers said. "It is available to coach as well as Pullman passengers, and may be used by passengers transferring to any train leaving any downtown Chicago station for any destination."

Before arriving at Erie's Dearborn Street Station in Chicago, the porters on Erie trains will take charge of the passengers' hand baggage, for which they will issue receipts.

The baggage will then be transferred to the parcel room of the station from which the passenger is to leave. When ready to board his outgoing train, the passenger merely presents the check at the parcel room there and his baggage is turned over to him without charge.

At the present time, except on coast-to-coast Pullmans, westbound passengers having a layover between trains in Chicago must either take their bags to the outbound station for checking or carry them duing the layover.

Campbell Community Club Meets at School

A meeting of the Campbell school community club was held Friday night, Nov. 8, at the school. A Bible reading by Jack Griffiths, the 100th Psalm given by the choral group, a prayer, singing of "America" and the salute to the flag led by Marian Griffiths opened the meeting.

The program was composed of the following numbers: a song, "What the Turkey Said" by the first and second grades; a song, "The Beautiful Blue Danube," by the third, fourth and fifth grades; a song, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," by the sixth, seventh and eighth grades; piano selection, "Home Guards," by a trio composed of Margie and Julie Parsell and Mrs. Pauline Davis; readings by Mrs. Wilson Massie; recitation by Judy Campbell; and motion pictures shown by Justin Parsell.

The pupils will present a Christmas program at the December meeting and Mrs. R. W. Williams will be chairman of the social committee.

Indian Music Feature Of Piano Class Recital

Indian music was featured when a group of pupils of the piano class of Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence held a "get together" meeting in her studio at 610 East Center street Monday afternoon.

A musical true or false quiz was followed by the program of music which included solos, trios, a piano quartet and a rhythm band. Mrs. C. H. Indoe, a guest, sang Thurlow Lieurance's "By the Waters of Minnetonka" in costume, and Mrs. Bernard Coon read an article by Elizabeth Guest, "The Music of the American Indian." An Indian picture by Jay Hyde Barnum was exhibited, and Miss Lawrence read an original poem, "The American Sphinx."

Pupils taking part were Marilyn Guy, Marilyn Fields, Nancy Indoe, Joan Osbourn, Jane Haley, Jean Haley, Helen Louise Haughn, Marilyn Howser, Martha Burklew, Anita Coon, Mary Jane Coon, Evelyn Price, Jackie Niles and Kenneth Kirkpatrick. Closing the program was announcement of practice awards.

Guests included besides Mrs. Indoe and Mrs. Coon, Mrs. William H. Guy, Mrs. Elbert Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Lester Osbourn, Mrs. William M. Haley, Pattie Burklew and Joan Haley.

STUDENTS PLAN RELIEF AID

By The Associated Press

OBERLIN, O., Nov. 13 — By trimming a dime from the cost of each student patron's meal once a week, Oberlin college dining hall budgets are going to provide $5,000 for European relief. The students decided in a referendum that showed 80 per cent in favor of the move. The first "share" meal was served last night. Funds saved will reach Europe through the American Friends Service committee.

Woman, 43, Cooks Meal 2nd Day After 25th Child Is Born

By The Associated Press

LAMESA, Tex., Nov. 13—Mrs. Ben Lopez, 43, gave birth to her 25th child Sunday and was up cooking breakfast yesterday morning, Dr. A. H. Smith, her attending physician, said today.

The child weighed eight pounds and the birth was normal, Dr. Smith said. Both child and mother were "going fine" today.

The baby girl was named Sunday Lopez, because, the doctor said, "They were giving out of names."

All 25 children were single births, Dr. Smith said. Twelve are still living. Two daughters-in-law were present at Sunday's birth.

"I couldn't believe it either when she told me it was the 25th child," Dr. Smith said. "I went back today to verify it and found the mother cooking breakfast. I told her to take it easy but I know she won't. She said she 'had a job to do' and was bustling around."

"She was 11 years old when she married Sept. 27, 1915. She had her first child when she was 12. Her husband was three years older—he was 14 when they married."

The father is a day laborer. They own their own five-room home here.

Winter Weather's on the Way!

Here Are Oldsmobile's Recommended

COLD WEATHER SERVICES

CHECK COOLING SYSTEM—The radiator and entire cooling system should be drained, flushed out, and thoroughly inspected. Hose connections should be tightened where necessary.

INSTALL ANTI-FREEZE—Sufficient anti-freeze should be put in to protect your car from a damaging freeze in even the coldest weather that can be expected.

TUNE ENGINE—Your motor should be put in shape to assure you of quick, easy starting, and economical performance no matter how low the thermometer goes.

CHANGE ENGINE OIL—A lighter oil that will circulate freely at below-freezing temperatures is a necessity for easy starting and the prevention of excessive winter wear.

LUBRICATE CAR—The entire chassis should be scientifically lubricated to prevent wear. The lubricants in standard transmission and differential should be changed to a winter grade. Hydra-Matic Drive fluid need not be changed unless necessary.

CHECK ELECTRICAL SYSTEM—There's a heavier load on battery, generator, starter and ignition system during cold weather. These should be inspected, put in good condition, and protected with a coating of Pib.

CHECK SAFETY FEATURES—Brakes should be adjusted and put in top-notch condition. Windshield wipers should be checked. Heater and defroster connections should be inspected.

PROTECT FINISH—Snow and ice and road-cleaning chemicals are tough on the finish of your car. A wash and polish, or a Liquid Glass job—and touch-up treatment—will protect both paint and chrome.

If You Have a New Oldsmobile on the Way—

Materials shortages and unavoidable production delays are keeping our deliveries behind schedule. Better keep your present car up with regular service . . . until that style-leading new Oldsmobile arrives!

The Idea Dies Hard

THE man in the White House can't get rid of the idea that price control would have been a howling success if congress had given him the law his advisers told him to demand last summer. He has made the preposterous statement in ordering the end of all price ceilings, except those on rents, sugar and rice, that the "real basis of our difficulty is this unworkable price control law which congress gave us to administer. The plain truth is, under this inadequate law, price control has lost the popular support needed to make it work."

Price control had lost popular support before the original Price Control Act expired. It had ceased to work long before a substitute law was passed and approved by the White House. Opponents of regimentation made one bad mistake in their battle to put the federal government out of private business. They should have let the Truman administration and its advisers stew in the mess they were in before the original Price Control Act expired. There should have been no substitute law. By this time, the men who were advising Mr. Truman would have known how much popular support they had. As it is, even after the enlightenment of Tuesday, Nov. 5, they still dare to tell him to claim "they wuz robbed."

Wage Boost Worth Having

THE PROSPECT of a reduction of taxes on small incomes accompanied by a simultaneous reduction of federal jobs is that of a wage boost worth having.

It is the only way government could give wage earners an increase in both money wages and buying power. A reduction of withholding taxes, for instance, if accompanied by a reduction of government operating expense, would be a net gain in worker income. There would be no corresponding increase in prices to offset it.

Under the New Deal it was claimed, on at least one occasion by Franklin D. Roosevelt himself, in reply to a query by Senator Taft, that no reduction in federal jobholding was possible. Mr. Roosevelt declared he had scanned the field and saw no place where government could get along with a single less employe. This became his administration's official policy: that government must expand and expand and expand and never again could contract.

That policy has given the country the largest total of jobholders it ever had in peacetime, a total so large that Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, a Democrat, made its reduction his most important legislative aim. The war further inflated the jobholding total. While he has made scant progress in the direction of reduction, Senator Byrd has made important progress in the direction of stabilization; he has kept the total from growing as rapidly as it would have grown otherwise.

In the 80th congress, if Republican majorities in both houses become interested in reduction of jobholding as the obvious means of increasing real wages of workers, Senator Byrd will come into his own. He will have what he always lacked while his own party was in power—support for his conviction that it is unjust to burden the people with needless expense in the operation of their government. He will have what he lacked while the Democratic party remained committed to the theory that government could create public income by taking income from the public and spending it as part of an ever-expanding federal budget—an incentive to keep fighting the growth of bureaucracy.

Missing Persons

GOING, going, gone are the old familiar faces—Guffey, Mead, Lehman, LaGuardia, Walsh, Kelly, Hague.

Andrew J. May called at the house office building after election to straighten out his affairs and go home to Prestonburg, Ky., to stay. He was defeated last Tuesday.

Paul Porter, administrator and undertaker of OPA, has given out word he wants to be relieved as soon as the last price controls are removed, which may be a matter of hours, or certainly not more than days.

Many are missing. They are too numerous to remember offhand. For example, men whose names once were on every tongue, men like that advertising fellow from Connecticut who was Mr. OPA in person for so many years, the fellow who got licked in the state primary for the senate, the Democrat they said might be president some day, the politician who was supposed to be balls of fire but couldn't bring out a crowd in the campaign, everybody used to know him like a brother, Chest . . . News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Russia Gains if France Falls to Communism.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—World chaos could grow out of such a relapse as France has suffered to Communism.

If the French government fell to Russia, Stalin would have two votes on the executive council of the United Nations which is supposed to let the Big Five run the world, ordering an international army to maintain whatever kind of peace the council wishes. The standing in the Big Five would then be 3 to 2 with unstable China holding the balance of power.

If China should fall to Communism, Stalin would have a Big Five majority on the UN council with its rotating small nations. By a majority vote he could then hope to direct the major American part of the UN army around the world to effect his purposes.

He could hope to conquer the globe for Communism against the United States and Great Britain. Then the two preponderant popular governments of the world could possibly be reduced to a minority on the council and our Big Five could be directed by revolutionary Communist governments, depending on which small nations are voting. We would have nothing left but a veto power.

Latest Ruse

This is the latest Communist political ruse as seen in its developing embryo by the world diplomats. For this reason, the French election was innerly taken so seriously although comment was guarded officially and commentators tended to pass it off lightly and play it down. One of the ablest purveyors of inside news saw the result only as a grave threat to Anglo-Saxon ideals in Paris not seeing or saying what were the world potentialities.

The potentialities will not now go that far. Before the French would permit the electoral decision to become anything more than a slippery stepping stone for Communism, there might be a restoration headed by Gen. de Gaulle, who has much prestige, especially among the women, who are more active and powerful in France than here. In that possibility lies the actual inner implications of the French results, from which come these conclusions.

French results were the outcroppings of a Communist ruse. The minority Communist party split the anti-Communist vote. France does not wish to go Communist. But its multiplicity of anti-Communist parties split the real French vote and allowed the devotees of a foreign power to pile up a larger number of deputies (170) than the next truly French party, the Popular Republicans (159), who are Catholic and under leadership of Provisional President Bidault.

Bidault Holds Own

Now Bidault just about held his own in this election of members of the French Congress, but the inroads of Communism were made among the Socialists (95), a party which detests Communism most. It is the Socialists then who must mend and strengthen their political pull or else join in with other anti-Communists to hold a line—which, if the anti-Communists get together, would put the Communists in a minority of about one-third.

The lesson of the French election then is that the heavily weighted anti-Communist majorities cannot afford to split stupidly into political sects or they will let their single-minded opponent win. The Communists are following the same old Nazi doctrine of divide and conquer.

That is where de Gaulle comes in. He was driven into retirement first by the Communists, who have since tried to make him unpopular by claiming he was pro-German. Imagine de Gaulle, the Allied leader of the French liberation movement, being pro-German! Actually he was only shortsighted, and liberated the Communists who are now devouring him, and he discredited many anti-Communists, who could have helped him.

Now the two-thirds majority of anti-Communists will have to keep Thorez (Russia) from getting control of France, its foreign policy and two Russain votes in the Big Five, and we will have to take steps in time to make sure China does not fall to Communism, which would fulfill the Communist strategy for minority conquest of the world. We will have to back Bidault and de Gaulle, which should have been done in the first place.

Edward Abdicated Fashion Throne, Too?

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have arrived in the United States.

And only last week Democratic campaign orators were boasting this country had no unemployment problem.

Fortunately, Larry MacPhail announced Bucky Harris' appointment before the Duke got here. Otherwise, he'd have been a sure bet for a Yankee manager rumor.

The Windsors' English sojourn was shorter than OPA's life expectancy now that Republicans are in power.

But though their visit was officially soft-pedaled, Wally made the front pages, albeit by crook. She may not have been received at Buckingham Palace, but at least she was interviewed by Scotland Yard.

Wally lost her jewels but the Duke lost his reputation when the British Tailors Journal reported: "The line of his jacket, which the editor hopes was made in France, is deplored as rather ugly to our English eyes."

Is the Duke out of style... as well as out of work?

Can't Stop Earth Shaking

Years of Effort To Prevent Quakes Prove Futile.

By JANE EADS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — For years physicists and other persons who make a business of probing world-shaking problems have been trying to find a way to prevent earthquakes.

No one has ever approached an answer, and the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey wants us to know that it makes no claims either on how to prevent earthquakes or to predict them.

Comdr. Elliott B. Roberts, in charge of the division of Geomagnetism and Seismology of the Survey, says that all it can do is to state "probabilities in certain areas as against improbabilities in other areas."

More specifically, the Coast and Geodetic Survey for the past three years has had a representative working throughout the American republics to "encourage expansion and more effective cooperation" in seismological investigations.

Ulrich's Job

Physicist Franklin P. Ulrich is the representative. One of his jobs has been to discuss the program in the United States for adequate earthquake resistant construction and to assist the various republics in obtaining information on the subject.

He says it has been estimated that approximately 50,000 persons have been killed annually during the past 100 years in earthquakes, mainly because of poor construction.

He adds that there is no doubt that much of the property loss, which has run into billions of dollars, could have been avoided by building to withstand earthquakes.

Currently under discussion is the possible formation of a central seismological (earthquake recording) organization in the Western Hemisphere and the setting up of a permanent international organization to assure continuity of its program.

Mr. Ulrich says that at the present time a construction boom is in progress throughout practically the entire world, and the available information on earthquakes is not sufficient for the officials who have to include provisions for earthquake-resistant design in the building codes.

Chief Zone

The most notable earthquake zone is around the entire border of the Pacific ocean. Another is in the region of the Mediterranean and eastward through the Near East and India.

But, says Comdr. Roberts, earthquakes have occurred in all parts of the earth during the past year.

The most important of these originated four miles off the coast of the Dominican Republic last Aug. 4. Many casualties were caused by a resulting tidal wave, which swept away an entire village on a low coastal level.

Of approximately equal importance was an earthquake April 1 in the Aleutian Islands. This set up long-range tidal waves which were recorded on gauges in various parts of the Pacific basin and did extensive damage at Hilo, Hawaii.

Some Atomic Progress Made

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 — The quiet labors of the atomic energy commission, which is seeking an answer to the fundamental question of our times, are nearing the conclusion of the first phase. The commission has already published the scientists' report, setting forth agreed technical facts. The next few weeks will see the completion of a series of reports on far more difficult topics, such as the method of international control.

Thus, for the first time, we shall get an inkling of the odds for or against the survival of the world as we know it. The whole thing turns on the decision of the Soviet Union's representative, Andrei Gromyko.

During the long months since the appointment of the commission, Gromyko has played a delaying game. Now, however, the American and other delegations on the commission are determined to produce their remaining reports before the New Year. Gromyko and his masters in the Kremlin will have to choose between signing the new reports, or refusing to accept the conclusions as to which all other commission members are by now unanimous. If the Soviets sign, they will accept in principle the international control system first proposed in the great state paper of the Acheson-Lilienthal-Oppenheimer committee. If they refuse to sign, the real Soviet objections to effective international control will at least become apparent. Soviet sensibilities, the veto question and our continued manufacture of atomic bombs have all been put forward as explanations of the difficulties encountered to date. None of these, in point of fact, has been the source of the real difficulty within the atomic energy commission. The only issue causing real difficulty has been the issue of whether the method of international control is to be effective or phony.

Gromyko Moves Slowly

It took months of patient waiting to induce Gromyko to present an official Soviet proposal on this point. When the proposal was at last forthcoming, it did not embody control of any kind. On the contrary, it left to each nation signing an atomic energy agreement the whole vital task of enforcing this agreement within its own borders. There was to be no inspection, no system of international safeguards at all. Again, it took weeks before Gromyko could be induced to talk about the Soviet plan in realistic terms. Finally, however, the position was clarified at a recent commission meeting, in discussion between Gromyko and John Hancock, who serves B. M. Baruch as his chief negotiator.

Gromyko stated plainly in the course of this discussion that the Soviet Union considered its sovereignty would be violated, even by the carefully limited inspection system required by the Lilienthal-Oppenheimer plan. Hancock asked him whether rejection of international inspection did not, in effect, eliminate any genuine differentiation between atomic weapons and any other weapons which might be secretly manufactured by a future aggressor. Gromyko replied that this might well be true, but that the integrity of sovereignty was the first consideration.

If the Soviets continue to maintain this position, the case is of course hopeless. Within the commission, however, considerable hope is still derived from the history of the scientists' report. In this report, signed by the Soviets, the impossibility of effective control without international inspection was clearly recognized in principle.

Ample Time Allowed

From the first, B. M. Baruch and his colleagues wisely allowed ample time for all commission members and experts to "get their feet wet" in the facts of the problem. Of the two Soviet scientists, Semen P. Alexandrov, who is still in this country, is a mining engineer appointed primarily for his knowledge of uranium and thorium sources. His colleague, Dmitri Vladimirocich Skobeltsin, is a physicist of high qualifications, however. As soon as his feet were wet, Skobeltsin recognized the nature of the control problem. Thus, when the scientists' report was written, it was known by all commission members that it embodied Soviet experts' private opinion. The question remained whether the Soviet government would permit its expert to join with the other scientists in approving the report.

After the report was written, the Soviet delegation played for time for no less than three weeks. Finally, the other commission members agreed to issue the report in a few days, with or without Soviet agreement. Gromyko was informed of this decision. And just before the deadline a message came from Moscow which permitted the report being made unanimous. It is barely possible that in the cases of the other, more important reports now forthcoming, the same pattern will repeat itself. Hope is also felt, perhaps a little naively, because of the return of Skobeltsin to Moscow. It is believed that his expert exposition of the facts may influence the policy-makers in the Kremlin. If this hope does not prove false, the world can begin to breathe again. And if it is without foundation, we shall at least know where we stand.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Letters for Special Delivery

TO the Republican Party,
Washington, D. C.

Gents:—

Harry Truman has been observed chuckling softly to himself lately and I am just wondering if he hasn't good reason. Could it be that it has occurred to him that, so far as 1948 is concerned, the recent election could be a break for him? Through the fact, I mean, that the chances of straightening things out in the next 18 months are not too hot and that the Republicans are at last, right in there where they can get a little bad notices?

* * *

The thing the Republicans have got to bear in mind is that nobody loves the man who boards up a merry-go-round or works up a wonderful friendship for the guy who cuts down the number of boats on a picnic park chute-the-chutes.

* * *

Although the G.O.P. has won a landslide election and put itself in almost complete control in Washington, the spot looks tougher than it did in the first glow of election results. "Okay, boys, let's see what you can do," is the national attitude. And, no matter whether you do well, medium or punkeroo, you will have to take a big part of the responsibility. It's enough to raise gooseflesh even on the body of a Republican cheer-leader.

* * *

The people have been so long accustomed to getting all the answers from Washington that the mere appearance on the scene of anybody who wants to think things out first is going to seem strange and a little resented. The public has become so used to getting lotions, oils, liniments and cure-all pills from the Capital by the "send no money" routine that it may regard the returns of a careful doctor who puts the diagnosis before the prescription as unconstitutional.

* * *

Suppose there is a business slump in 1947? Who will feel most like smiling, Harry Truman or the Republicans? Suppose strikes continue or get worse all next year? What if the snafu, after 14 years, is so deep that nothing much can be done about it inside of two years? Is that going to make the Republicans look hot?

* * *

Isn't Aunt Minnie going to expect such wonders from the Republicans that the icebox will be full of sirloins at once? Won't popper be impatient if income taxes aren't cut with speed and gusto?

* * *

Won't the rank and file expect that, by some election magic, the five cent hot dog will come back overnight, with the edible hamburger, the 60-cent dinner, the nickel cigar and the second helping of butter? Won't even the kids expect the penny lollipop back?

* * *

Oh, boy, do I fear for the Republicans. It seems to me they are in the position of the man who rushes out onto the railroad tracks to save Little Nell from the onrushing locomotive and has to take all the responsibility if Nell insists she likes to play in the railroad yards.

* * *

Remember that the plumber called into repair the pipes in a swimming pool is never popular if the job is so drastic that he has to hold up the swimming carnival.

Yours,
ELMER.

Something Smells

By TRUMAN TWILL

Sometimes the sweet-water people go too far. The way they tell it, all you have to do is put a dab back of each ear and avoid the rush. According to their blurbs, the sense of smell is a law unto itself. Waft a whiff of Headstrong his way and he screams, "Eeeyow!" and buts out the side of a building. Or wave the cork out of a bottle of Old Amoor under his kisser and he rolls up his eyes and gets woo-woo-happy.

This may sell sweet-water, but it's disillusioning a lot of parties who wish they could go back to being as innocent as they once were. Because these parties are squirting themselves up and down and back and forth with all the supposedly irresistible odors there are and not getting to first base. They are going to catch on some day that they were suckers and they'll be disagreeable about it.

All around them they see competitors who don't smell like Paris, apple blossoms, late afternoon in Venice, or anything except like girls who have recently been holystoned with a good brand of soap getting a big play from the opposite sex. And instead of rolling his eyes and giving out with sweet Sinatras, their own boy friend reacts to his first sniff of Leopard Sweat with a prosaic "Whew!"

What the sweet-water crowd is leading up to, unless it disciplines itself, is a bureau of tests and measurements to check on the accuracy of its sexy implications. To get down to brass tacks, will a drop of Irresistible-Oo-La-La make a 170-pound male fall to the floor in a lovesick swoon or won't it, and if it won't let's get back to truth in advertising.

Furthermore, what's claimed to be atomic for the gander should bowl over the goose. Theoretically, the sense of smell should make Him smell just as good to Her as she is supposed to smell to Him at $50 an ounce. But what happens when He puts a drop back of each ear? She says, "Why can't you look like other men, you drip?"—and never notices that he smells like $50.

And what happens when the stuff is put to the ultimate test—when the girl with a face that not even a mother could love drenches herself in Mancatcher and goes out to catch a man? They don't make the nights that dark, dearie. You should be spending the rest of your life in a basement, maybe.

We can't blame the sweet-water people for trying, and no one wants to blame the girls for hoping, but things keep going from bad to worse. They're getting this thing to the place where the smell is beginning to smell. A mere man never knows when he may round a corner and walk right into a cloud of high-octane come-hither intended for some gent who stopped to tie a shoestring.

If a thousandth of what these people claim were true, the broken homes would be piling up faster than they are, which is too fast—and hasn't it occurred to anyone that the sweet-water advertising might have something to do with it? If it doesn't, someone's a liar.

60 Marion County Poultrymen on Tour

More than 60 poultrymen of Marion county participated in a tour Tuesday at the Bishop poultry farm near New Washington, where they were shown methods of egg grading treating and marketing. They also inspected a Ladino clover pasture on the farm. The tour was sponsored by the Marion county extension service under the direction of Arthur H. Smith, county agricultural agent.

New Washington is headquarters for the North Central Egg and Poultry cooperative. The Marion county group Tuesday renominated Arthur Hemlich of Richland township as their representative on the board of directors of the cooperative. Election of directors will be conducted during the annual meeting of the cooperative to be held in New Washington Nov. 19.

ROOF SHINGLES

Q: Please inform me as to the best paint to use on wood roofing shingles.

A.: Paint is not suitable for roof shingles, although of course it is entirely suitable for side walls. Shingle stain should be used for a roof either a commercial type or a home-made product. This can consist of the following: Four gallons raw linseed oil, two gallons coal-tar creosote oil, and one gallon japan drier. This will give a medium brown color.

Q.. I have paneled two of my rooms with used pine boards, which have pencil marks on them in several places. I have not been able to remove these marks with anything that I have tried. Can you suggest something?

A.: Try an eraser, then rub down the wood with fine sandpaper. If the marks were made with an indelible pencil they may be removed by wiping with a solution of oxalic acid (poison!) and denatured alcohol. Dissolve as much of the crystals as will be taken up by the alcohol. Leave this on for several hours, then rince well with clear water.

Ohio State Dental Association Elects

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13—Dr. William W. Hurst, professor of prosthetic dentistry at Western Reserve university, was installed today as president of the Ohio State Dental association as the organization closed its annual meeting.

Elected to serve one year, Dr. Hurst succeeds Dr. J. C. Longfellow of Bellefontaine and will preside over the association's state meeting in Cleveland next year.

Dentists were told in concluding sessions they could save 6,000 persons from death by oral cancer next year if the patients were given early treatment.

"Tumors kill over 165,000 Americans annually and approximately 7,500 of these victims die from mouth, lip, jaw and tongue cancers," said Dr. Hamilton B. G. Robinson of Ohio State university's college of dentistry. 'Early diagnosis and proper treatment can save 6,000 of these people from death by oral cancer next year."

Dr. J. Roy Blayney, director of the Zoller Memorial dental clinic, Chicago, received the John R. Callahan award for outstanding performance in dentistry.

KENTON, Nov. 13 — Two Kenton men were burned Monday when a fire caused by a double explosion swept through Moore's Sohio station here.

Robert Hatch and Orville Ward, both attendants at the station received second degree burns. Hatch was treated at Antonio hospital here for burns on the hands, face and left leg. Both men were working inside the station at the time of the explosions. Cause of the explosion which blasted out a front window and buckled a section of the building is unknown.

The Kenton fire department brought the blaze in the building, which is one block from Kenton's business section, under control after a half hour. Damage was unestimated.

SCHOOL LEVY CAMPAIGN COST ASSOCIATION $686

Deadline Falls Friday on Campaign Expense Accounts.

The Marion Civic Planning association spent $686.32 in its recent campaign for passage of the two-mill school levy, according to its expense account filed with the board of elections today. Marion voters passed the levy by a vote of 7,789 to 3,082.

The association indorsed the school levy last summer following a survey by its research committee including B. R. Prichard, William Kehlwecker and Ben T. Want.

Another expense account filed with the board of elections today was that of Luther J. Mitchell, Republican elected Marion county commissioner. Mitchell's expense account totaled $194.71.

Deadline for filing statements of campaign expenses is Friday.

The official count of election returns is now well under way and the board of elections said it expects to complete its tabulations by Friday.

Social Affairs

ONE of the series of pre-nuptial social affairs honoring Miss Loraine Evans, a bride-elect of December, was the tea given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. James C. Woods, Mrs. Carl Danner and Mrs. James C. Woods Jr., at the Marion Country Club.

A pastel theme was chosen by the hostesses for the party given at 5 o'clock, and favors were wedding bells in these shades. The candlelit table held a bonquet of white chrysanthemums. Miss Evans, who is the fiancee of David Pollak, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower.

Mrs. Carrie Harriman of 231 Olney avenue entertained the Birthday club Sunday with a pot-luck dinner at her home. The table from which the dinner was served was centered with a large birthday cake. The club is composed of old school mates of Essex school who meet together annually to celebrate their birthdays.

Those present were Mrs. Lela Chapman, Mrs. Susie Daniels, Mrs. Mary Pierce, Mrs. Cora Darnell, Mrs. Fern Wylie and Mrs. Gertrude Cowgill, all of Richwood, Mrs. Allie Williams of Prospect, and Mrs. Chloe Ward of Marion. Guests were Mrs. Etta Robinson of Kenton, John Harriman of Richwood, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Callahan, Mrs. Lucinda Welter, Mrs. Cora Kannell and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Ledley, all of Marion.

Mrs. Jack Underhill of 345 East Fairground street was honored guest when her niece, Mrs. Sam Patrick, entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner Friday evening at her home in Bellefontaine, O. Mrs. Underhill was celebrating a birthday anniversary. A large cake centered the table and the evening was spent socially with contest prizes going to Sam Patrick, Jack Underhill and Gene, Sue, and Ann Patrick. Mrs. Patrick was assisted in serving by her daughter, Ann.

Mrs. Frederick Hoch was in charge of the program and presented a paper, "The Hudson River," at a meeting of the Woman's club Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Claire T. Crenshaw on Lafayette street. Miss Winona Hughes reported having decorated a store window for the club in observance of National Art week. A meeting scheduled for Nov. 25 has been postponed until February and the next meeting, Nov. 8 will be at the Federation Home with Mrs. W. N. Harder as hostess.

Mrs. Robert T. Richendollar, who recently established her home here, was complimented with a shower when Mrs. Roy Scheitler entertained at her home on Sugar street. Games were played, an award for high score going to Mrs. Robert Holcomb. A guessing box award was won by Mrs. John Storer. Mr. and Mrs. Richendollar have been making their home with the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Scheitler.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Daly of Milburn avenue were hosts to the J.A.R.D. Euchre club Saturday night in their home. First prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Daly, second to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Russell, third to Mrs. Ruth Arndt and Lloyd Johnson, and lone hand awards to Mrs. Russell and Charles Arndt.

Last year the trolley coach, street car and gas bus companies of America spent more than $106,000,000 for electric power, gasoline, diesel oil, coal and lubricants.

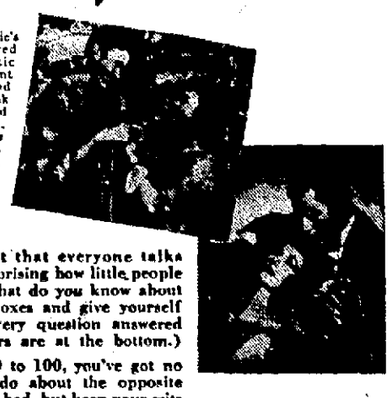
Score yourself on LOVE

Scenes from Republic's "I've Always Loved You," the dramatic story of a turbulent romance, produced and directed by Frank Borzage and filmed in Technicolor. Above, Catherine McLeod and William Carter. Right, Catherine McLeod and Philip Dorn.



Love is a subject that everyone talks about, but it's surprising how little people know about it. What do you know about love? Mark the boxes and give yourself ten points for every question answered correctly. (Answers are at the bottom.)

If you score 80 to 100, you've got no brow-beating to do about the opposite sex; 50 to 70—not bad, but keep your wits about you; 40 or below—you'd better start at the beginning!

Marion Federated Clubs Mark National Book Week With Extensive Display, Dinner At Hotel Harding

By EDNA S. DUTTON

ROW upon row of books to please the taste of any and all readers, rare volumes and autographs, pictures and busts of men and women whose names and works are a part of literature's heritage, provided visitors real book enjoyment yesterday when the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs observed National Book Week with an exhibit at the Federation Home.

In keeping with the federation's policy of sharing with others, the occasion was a community event and was in charge of the fine arts department. Adding to the enjoyment of the guests, who were received from 3 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 10 in the evening, was music by a trio composed of Mrs. Virginia Griffiths, Mrs. DeJon Hassel and Mrs. Mildred Willis, accompanied by Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, and the tea, for which members of the social committee were hostesses.

A highlight of the day was the visit of Mrs. Clarence J. Goldthorpe of Youngstown, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs. Guests also included Mrs. Fred Ellsperman, circulation manager of "The Buckeye," federation publication, Mrs. Chester Smith of Columbus, and Miss Norma Bolanos, Pan-American Federation student at Ohio State university.

Talks on Peace Efforts

Mrs. Goldthorpe talked informally on the United Nations conference, the International Assembly of women and the New York Herald Tribune forum which she attended recently in New York City. How women can be helpful in bringing about world peace was the theme of the assembly of women from 56 nations, Mrs. Goldthorpe said in her talk last evening. She described the women as leaders in their respective countries, and said that while they spoke different languages and followed varied customs they met in harmony and were unanimously agreed that there must be world peace. Many had voted for the first time, she stated, and were vitally interested in placing women in their government, a movement which might well be followed by American women, Mrs. Goldthorpe pointed out.

At the home the guests were welcomed at the door by Mrs. James Ralston, chairman of the fine arts department of the federation and receiving the guests throughout the afternoon and evening were Mrs. Goldthorpe, Mrs. Ellsperman, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Clarence W. Weber, president of Central district, Mrs. T. H. Sutherland, president of the local federation, Mrs. W. N. Harder, Mrs. Dale Lawrence, Mrs. O. D. Anderson, Miss Marian Conley, Mrs. Edson L. Bush, Mrs. Grover C. Snyder, Miss Mabel Wheatley, Mrs. George Stafford and Miss Bolanos.

The tea table was centered with an arrangement of all white baby mums and greenery and lighted with white tapers held in crystal candelabra. Presiding were Mrs. Fillmore Young, Mrs. William Ackerman, Mrs. James Ralston, Mrs. B. H. Buettin, social chairman, Mrs. Frank M. Knapp and Mrs. J. C. Ackerman, and assistants were Mrs. William Guy, Mrs. F. F. McKinney, and Mrs. Clare Keller, Mrs. J. E. Bricker and Mrs. James Lauer of Prospect, Mrs. Ralph Rawlings, Mrs. Paul Schwemley, Mrs. Charles Rinehart, Miss Ann Mereness and Mrs. F. D. Loudenslager of Morral.

Dinner at Hotel

A dinner last evening at Hotel Harding was in honor of Mrs. Goldthorpe, and present with the federation officers were past presidents, members of the social committee and chairmen. Chrysanthemums in yellow, burgundy and russet shades, formed the table bouquets and completing the decorations were lighted tapers in these colors. Mrs. Weber presided and brief talks were given by Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Fillmore Young, Mrs. Grover C. Snyder, Mrs. Goldthrope, Miss Philomen Gregg, Miss Wheatley, Mrs. Ralston, Miss Bolanos, Mrs. Ellsperman and Mrs. Smith. Miss Bolanos told of her trip to her home in Costa Rica last summer and of her plans upon the completion of her work at Ohio State university.

Mrs. Weber entertained with a breakfast today at her home on Wildwood court complimenting Mrs. Goldthorpe before her departure for Columbus. Mrs. Goldthorpe's activities as head of the state federation are plans for the annual state convention which will be held at Columbus May 6, 7 and 8, 1947.

Visitors during the afternoon included a group of clubwomen from Mt. Vernon.

Many Books Displayed

One room downstairs and practically the entire second floor of the home was used for the exhibit which ranged from children's books, cook books and poetry to limited volumes long out of publication and autographed books which are priceless.

For gardeners there were gay books suggesting what and where to plant, the care of flowers and what grows best in the vegetable garden. Not to be overlooked was the "Herbarium," a collection of pressed flowers, together with a description of the flower and where it was found. The volume, which was compiled half a century ago, is the property of Mrs. Walter C. Haldeman, chairman for the exhibit. Another interesting volume also the property of the chairman, was Bailey's "Copedia on Horticulture." The exhibit, as well as the flowers throughout the room and on the tea table were in charge of the House and Garden club. Assisting Mrs. Haldeman as a committee were Mrs. Charles Rinehart, Mrs. Homer Waddell Mrs. U. A. Nystrom, Mrs. Lowell Gompf and Miss Mabel Wheatley.

Autographed pictures of Robert Ingersoll, Marie Corelli, busts of Byron and other famous characters in literature, and figurines of characters from Dickens' work made up the setting for the collection of autographed and rare editions arranged by Mrs. Fillmore Young. Many of the priceless volumes were from the library of her late husband, Dr. Fillmore Young, and included valuable sets which had been bound especially for him. Autographs included Mark Twain, President Harding's, Marie Corelli, with whom Dr. and Mrs. Young visited at her home in England, and the late Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Barlow, through whose generosity the federation became the owner of the Barlow home, now the Federation home. In the display were books from the "Life and Letters of Dickens," which is limited to 750 volumes for distribution in England and America and which were distributed as each volume was published, and the Chapman & Hall edition of 40 volumes published in 1843 which includes Forester's "Life of Dickens," the limited and autographed edition of Mark Twain's' work, which contains 37 volumes, "The French Immortals," which bears the seal of Cardinal Richelieu done in art bindings. Cardinal Gibbons' "Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire," "Arabian Nights," "History of Italian Literature," Anglo Saxon classics, Royal edition, translations of Guy de Maupossant, collection of the work of Oscar Wilde, autographed, translation from the French of the work of Jules Verne, and many others. Of interest was the original list of the inventory of the possessions of Cardinal Gibbons in French. Assisting Mrs. Young as a committee were Mrs. Rolland Leeper Mrs. O. B. Morrison, Mrs. J. A. Dodd, Mrs. Wilbur H. Symes and Mrs. Clifford M. Howser.

Music Posters

Musical posters formed a background for the display of books on music and musical scores. Here were to be found the work of composers both modern and old, music of Russia, chorals, as well as some original and rare manuscripts. Mrs. Harold K. Mouser was chairman for this exhibit and assisting her were Mrs. A. G. Birch, Mrs. Karl W. Schell, Mrs. LeRoy Schneider and Mrs. William Ackerman, Jr.

A large map of Ohio designated the exhibit by Ohio authors whose works are also in the Ohioana library. Here were found Seagrave's "Burma Surgeon," "Eddie Rickenbacker," by Adamson, and the work of Louis Bromfield, Mary Jenison, David Dietz and others who have brought fame to the Buckeye state and Marion county was represented by Keith Henney of Marion, Ralph Parlette, native of LaRue, Edwin Grant Conklin, professor emeritus of biology, at Princeton, native of Waldo, and others. Miss Pansy Rauhauser was chairman of this exhibit. Miss Philomen Gregg arranged the display of books of poetry by modern contemporary poets. Here were found the "Best Poems of 1932," "Anthology of Ohio Verse," Alice Duer Miller's "The White Cliffs," "Book of Poetry of English People," and the art display, in charge of Mrs. Thomas H. Sutherland, featured Currier & Ives prints, modern French Painters, "World Famous Paintings" "Great Works of Art, and many others.

Cookbooks by the cart load were on display. Gay jackets of all colors tempted the guests to look inside and recipes were given as souvenirs. These were in charge of Mrs. Robert E. White and Mrs. Karl Holly. One of the popular displays was the children's books, which appealed alike to both juniors and grownups, and equally as enticing was the display of current volumes. Children's books were displayed by Mrs. George E. Planck and Mrs. Everett Grigsby was in charge of the current literature. For those interested in psychiatry there was an informative array of literature in charge of Mrs. Harold V. Alexander.

The book stall, in charge of Mrs. Dale Lawrence, was downstairs. Books donated by members and friends were on sale and the list contained current as well as popular fiction of a few years ago.

Book marks, given as favors, were the work of Girl Scout Troops. Approximately 600 favors were made by the following troops: Troop 5, Miss Emily Wolfel, leader, St. Mary school; Troop 20, Mrs. Harold Fetter, leader, Pearl Street school; Troop 28, Mrs. Clarence Meister, leader, Pearl Street school; Troop 7, Mrs. Annabelle Lee, leader, Mt. Zion Baptist church; Troop 23, Mrs. Jack Baragar, leader, Greenwood school; Troop 32, Mrs. Hubert Turner, leader, Oakland Heights school; Troop 10, Mrs. Malcolm Severns, leader, Oak Street school; Troop 24, Mrs. Milton Giles, leader, George Washington school.

Contributions and pledges received following the final report meeting of Oct. 30, when slightly more than $52,000 was reported, increased the fund to $57,118.14, and hopes and expectations of the board and division heads, who are still on the job, are, that the sum of $60,000 at least will be raised. Figures submitted to the board, indicate that there still are firms and individuals to be contacted and it is to these the Foundation is looking to help solve the financial problem.

As a result of the lack of sufficient contributions to reach the goal of $67,190, the participating agencies of the foundation and service men's organizations will suffer some financial curtailment in their budgets, the figures show. However, an effort is being made to finance the planned programs of these organizations and it is expected they will receive a near 100 per cent of the amounts requested through funds from the reserve fund. In order to do this, the $7,000 set aside as an emergency reserve fund will suffer greatly, the board points out.

The board was unanimous in its praise of the work of the campaign chairman, J. J. Stafford, E. L. Cleveland, foundation president, the division heads and workers in what was a successful campaign from a standpoint of organization and workmanship, if not financially. The resignation of Mrs. E. E. Holt as a member of the board was accepted and Mrs. Robert Pennisten nominated and unanimously approved as a successor. Announcement was made of the annual meeting to be held Dec. 10 at the Y.M.C.A. at which time officers for the coming year will be elected.

POST HEARS REPORT ON NEW CLUBROOMS

Bird-McGinnis Bond Sale Progressing for Project.

Reports on various activities in the post were given when Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, met Tuesday night in the Legion Dugout. A feature of the meeting was a sound film entitled "Ohio's Good Earth" shown by W. J. Merchant of Marion, Sohio training assistant for the Standard Oil Co. Also as guest at the meeting was Paul Crist, commander of the newly established Legion post at Marseilles, O.

John H. Moore, adjutant, reported on the progress of the American Legion "162" Club. The post has taken over the top three floors of the old Marion National Bank building for its club rooms. Mr. Moore announced that over $3,000 in stock had been subscribed for by the members to finance the project, and that the stock certificates can be obtained by those members from John Corwin at the Home Federal Savings and Loan Co. Mr. Moore also stated that if materials needed will be available, the club will be opened Jan. 1.

Craig M. Rogers, past commander of the post, was presented a past commander's badge from the National Legion Headquarters. The presentation was made by Clifford Chapman, also a past commander of Bird - McGinnis post.

In answer to a number of questions which have come up concerning the fund which was raised about a year and one-half ago for the building of a living memorial for the veterans of all wars, J. W. Llewellyn explained that the money, amounting to $54,000, is invested in F bonds, and that the committee is working on a prospective location for the home.

The first vice commander, Ralph Cheney, reported that there are 300 paid memberships for 1947 up to the present time. Chester Morris reported on the activities of the Legion bowling team and announced that they played Fostoria last week and won all games.

Arden Rizor, scoutmaster of Troop 5 which is sponsored by Bird-McGinnis Post, reported on various activities of the troop including a stay at Camp Owens last week. The troop is also planning a paper drive in the near future to raise funds for furthering its activities.

An announcement was made of a 6th District conference to be held Sunday at Franklin Post No. 1 headquarters in Columbus. Anyone planning to go is to contact Earl West or John H. Moore so they can make arangements for transportation. Those going are to meet at the post office at 8 a. m. Sunday.

A period of silence in memory of the soldier dead and prayer by the chaplain closed the meeting.

Songs by Quartet Given At Meeting of P.-T.A.

A feature of the program presented at a meeting of George Washington P.-T. A. Tuesday night, was several numbers by a quartet composed of Raymond Roecker, William Ackerman, Homer Huffman and Alvin Budd. Their selections were "Remember Me, Almighty One," "Steal Away," and "Dip, Boys, Dip the Oars." A movie also was shown.

During the meeting, it was decided to sponsor a carnival sometime in January. They also decided to purchase two films, "The Sports Parade" and "Yosemite" as a beginning of a permanent film library. The film will be available to other organizations for a small rental charge. It was announced that the children of the school will present the program at the December meeting. The first grade, Miss DeEmma Hawley, teacher, won the award for having the most parents present.

ment of the two-story building, Erickson said, and blew out the roof and one side of the building. He said two classrooms, for fifth and sixth grade students and junior high school pupils, were "demolished."

Erickson said the school enrollment numbers "from 175 to 200" students but that the number in the two classrooms was probably "40 to 50."

The school has students from primary grades through high school, Erickson added.

The explosion occurred about 11:30 a. m., he said.

An attendant at St. Joseph sanitarium said "between 30 and 40" children were taken there and that the hospital was told to prepare for 75. Many of them were treated only for shock and minor injuries, however.

Reported most seriously injured of those at St. Joseph was Alice Johns, whose age was not immediately available.

Reports Conflict

Operator Florence Ruthowske said she had been directed to summon all available ambulances from surrounding communities and that she was further ordered to "make reservations in a lot of hospitals."

Reports conflicted, however, as to how many pupils were in the building, one hospital official believing nearly 200 were there at the time.

Only three injured children had been taken to Mercy hospital by 12:30 p. m. but Miss Sue Borden, superintendent, said "they are just beginning to bring them in now."

At least ten others were still in the basement and Sheriff Erwin Kubath called for fire masks to fight gas fumes in the rescue work.

Miss Borden said the three were "more frightened than hurt," suffering only from minor burns and bruises.

Other injured were reported taken to the St. Joseph sanitarium and to the Pawaiting hospital in Niles.

Trapped in Stairway

Reports soon after the blast said the boilers in the heating room apparently exploded, wreckage piercing two floors above the boiler. The reports said many children, on their way down the corridors and stairs to the basement lunch room, were trapped.

The Benton Harbor police radio carried a call for a power shovel to be rushed to the scene to help extricate the victims.

The city's fire department also sent resuscitators to the wrecked school buildings.

Central Junior Grid Team Is Honored

Honoring the Central Junior High school football team, Marion's 1946 champion junior high football squad, members of the team, Pete Howison, coach, and Mrs. Howison were entertained Tuesday night. The event was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams on Chase street, with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Foreman, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Leffler and Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Hinklin as co-hosts. A miniature football field decorated the table.

STATE GEOLOGIST TALKS TO ROTARY

Water Problems Discussed by J. W. Cummins.

J. W. Cummins, geologist with the Ohio water resource board, spoke Tuesday in the weekly Rotary club luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding. His topic was "Some Water Problems of Ohio."

Mr. Cummins combined two subjects, the activities and the problems of the water resource board and his talk covered nearly all problems of the board, which is made up of representatives of various branches of the state government. These men study all problems and refer them to special committees.

The resources board applies its decisions by suggesting to the people how to overcome the problems, relating to their own communities.

Records are kept about the water conditions in Ohio at 555 East Broad street, Columbus, where the information is available to the public.

Mr. Cummins displayed two maps, one showing the rainfall and the other explaining the amount and the speed of the water flowing into streams.

"Infiltration," he stated, "is the process in which the roots of plants absorb moisture starting around the first of June and then casts the water back into the air as the plants grow. This process keeps the water cycle continuous."

Guests of the club were Louis E. Michel of the Chamber of Commerce, Charles D. Harmon Jr. of the Y's Men club, and Dr. Walter Ruskin. Ann LaMarche was reporter from the journalism class at Harding High school.

Pride of 35 Elects Officers at Meeting

Election of officers for the new year was conducted when Pride of 35, Lodge No. 79, Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, met Tuesday night in the Democratic hall. A potluck supper preceded the meeting.

Mrs. Marie Wilson was chosen president; Mrs. Lucille Drake, past president; Mrs. Lucy McMorrow, vice president; Mrs. Golda Leffler, secretary; Mrs. Rena Clark, treasurer; Mrs. Florence Burke, conductress; Mrs. Lois Williams, warden; Mrs. Emma Humes, chaplain; Mrs. Helen Haberman, inner guard; Mrs. Ruby Davis, outer guard; Mrs. Ethel Hanley, pianist, and Dr. Clare W. Smith, medical examiner.

Installation of these officers will be held at the first meeting in January. The mystery box was won by Mrs. Leffler. The Christmas dinner and exchange will be Dec. 10.

RUSSIAN NEWSMAN REPORTS ON AMERICA

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Nov. 13—Ilya Ehrenburg, Russian reporter, said in a lecture last night that the average American was too self confident, but that he was neither mean nor stupid and he "does not want war."

He asserted that "reactionaries" had taken the offensive in the United States, but expressed belief that this "triumph of reaction" would not last for long. He said President Roosevelt was a great man, that the average American was politically immature.

His audience was so thickly packed that Ehrenburg had great difficulty getting into the building and started his lecture 20 minutes late. Every seat, all aisles and every foot of standing room was filled. Ehrenburg spoke on observations of his trip to the United States last summer.

He described Henry Wallace as a good example of a farmer and a broadly cultivated person. He said Wallace understood the interests of the average American, strove to defend them and was not alone. He said men such as Sen. Claude Pepper (D-Fla.) and former Ambassador Joseph Davies and others were with Wallace.

Ehrenburg said America was growing, and that he was referring to the minds of men, not to skyscrapers. The Russian reporter said more and more persons were demanding rights for Negroes and were taking an interest in Soviet culture, but that they still were a minority.

Ehrenburg said he also likes Walt Disney, Charlie Chaplin and American architecture. He said it was easy either to ridicule or glorify America, but harder to understand the country.

Truman Drafts New Legislative Program

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—The White House reported today that President Truman has begun work on the legislative program he will submit to the new Republican-controlled congress in January.

The President's proposals will be outlined in his annual message.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross was asked by reporters if Mr. Truman plans to invite the Republican majority leaders to the White House for weekly conferences.

Ross said he could add nothing to what Mr. Truman told his news conference Monday—that a decision on weekly consultations will be made when the new congress meets.

KENTON PASTOR ATTENDS CHURCH MEETING IN IOWA

To Deliver Talk On Rural Church and Family.

Special to The Star

KENTON, Nov. 13.—Rev. W. I. Nofsier, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church here is in Des Moines, Iowa, where he is representing the Ohio conference of the Methodist church at a meeting of the interdenominational convocation on town and country churches.

The meeting is composed of specialists in the rural field and all Protestant churches will be represented.

Rev. Nofsier is the chairman of a study group representing six states. He will address the meeting on "Family Life and the Rural Church."

Rev. Nofsier has devoted much of his life to the study of the rural church and social work. He served on President Hoover's White House conference on child health and protection in 1930, represented the United States at an International prison conference held in Prague, Czechoslovakia before the war, and served for a number of years on a child commission in Kentucky.

Naval officials were cautious in replying to questions about laying formal claim to territory. Said Vice Admiral Forrest Sherman, deputy chief of naval operations

Training Units

The primary purpose of the expedition is to train naval units and any effects these operations might have on the balance of conflicting claims to territories will be incidental only."

Added Byrd:

"This nation doesn't recognize any claims down there—and hasn't made any itself."

The question of whether material for atomic energy—and bombs—might be sought bounced around a bit in the news conference.

Denies Uranium Race

Byrd declared that any statement that "this is a uranium race is not correct." (Uranium is a nuclear fission material).

But, the admiral added, "we will investigate all minerals, and uranium happens to be one of many minerals." He previously had said he did not know of the presence of uranium in Antarctica but commented that the continent was rich in various minerals.

While the 4,000-man expedition will include some 300 men interested in pure science, including 25 civilian scientists, navy officials said there would be no nuclear physicists among them.

The officially stated objectives of the four-month, 13-ship expedition are: (1) training personnel and testing equipment in frigid zones; (2) consolidating and developing results of the previous expedition; (3) developing naval techniques for establishing and supporting bases under polar conditions; (4) amplifying scientific knowledge of the area relative to ocean, geographic, geological, weather and other conditions.

Officers did not discuss in detail equipment to be tested. However establishment of a permanent or semi-permanent American base in the Antarctic could fill the need for a guided missiles' testing ground both safe and secret

"Tom Meex" And Passport

Texas "Document" Proves Valuable to Funster in Europe.

By International News Service

HOUSTON, Tex. — Two Houston residents treasure Texas "passports," one of which enabled its owner to cross the Austro-Hungarian border in 1937.

The "passports" were printed as a gag by six homesick Texans who got the idea during a poker game in Arizona in 1936.

F. I. Brumberry, immigration inspector and Arvin F. Scharff, in charge of the Houston office of the customs agency service, were two of the six funsters.

Scharff tells of spending the following year in Vienna. He used to strut around the city in a big western hat, loud shirt and boots. The movie-conscious Viennese called him "Tom Meex."

One night Scharff and his wife decided to cross the border into Budapest.

The guard, impressed by Scharff's Western garb and sure that it was "Tom Meex" was further convinced when Scharff presented his Texas "passport." The Scharffs were allowed to proceed.

The "passport" has a lone brown star at the top and reads:

"To all whom this bull shall come, greeting. I, the undersigned Consul of Texanic Majesty of Free and Soverign Texas, do hereby request all Sheriffs, Rangers and Peace Officers (tax inspectors included), to permit Alvin F. Scharff, a citizen of Free and Soverign Texas, safely and freely to pass and in case of need to give him all lawful aid and protection.

"Given under my hand and the Seal of the Texanic Consulate at the City of Nagales, State of Arizona, this second day of March, 1936, and of the Independence of Texas, the One Hundredth. Signed R. H. Bibdet, Consul of Texas."

Cosmic Ray Data Sought on High Peak in Alaska

By The United Press

JUNEAU, Alaska—Mount St. Elias, third highest peak in the North American continent, has been challenged by eight seekers of cosmic ray information, sponsored by the Harvard Mountaineering club.

The mountain—18,006 feet high—was successfully climbed only once, by the Italian Duke of Abruzz, at the turn of the century.

The expedition is conducting confidential studies for the Army Air Forces and the Quartermaster Corps in conjunction with the Harvard Fatigue Laboratory, the U. S. Geological Survey and the American Geographic Society.

Planes of the army's Tenth Rescue Squadron, co-operating in the climbing research, have dropped advance supplies at 10 successive base camps to the head of the Tyndal Glacier.

The foot party carries much scientific equipment, using skis and sleds, which do not accompany the party beyond 4,000 feet. This level is the actual base of the mountain, and is about 25 miles inland.

All eight of the party are experienced mountain climbers and members or associates of the Harvard Mountaineering Club and of the American Alpine club.

Leader of the group is Maynard M. Miller, Seattle, who has made two previous trips to Alaska, and who climbed with Bradford Washburn in the Fairweather Range in 1940.

Only woman of the group is Mrs. A. J. Kauffman, Washington, D. C. Others include Mr. Kauffman, William Lataday, Cambridge, Mass.; William Putnam, president of the Harvard club, Springfield, Mass. D. and K. Molenaar, Los Angeles, and an army observer-commercial officer, Lt. Ben Ferriss.

The Molenaars are both former Mount Rainier, Wash., guides and with Miller recently made a conditioning ascent of Rainier, the first since the war.

Films and cosmic ray observations are for the Bartol Research Foundation of Philadelphia.

10,000 OPA Dismissal Slips, Last This Month

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—Price Administrator Paul A. Porter told employes of the agency yesterday that 10,000 dismissal notices issued today are the last ones before Nov. 30 despite plans to "proceed at once with an orderly demobilization of a major part of our activities."

Porter made this statement in a letter to all employes. The 10,000 dismissal notices yesterday were the result of decontrol actions prior to the wholesale removal of ceilings accomplished last weekend.

The 30-day notices went to 8,613 clerks of local price control boards which were closed on Nov. 4, and to employes previously engaged in administration of food price controls.

OPA officials estimated that the 10,000 cut brought OPA's force down to about 24,000, compared with 34,700 in October.

PHEASANT, RABBIT HUNTING SEASON OPENS FRIDAY NOON

Increase in Number of Ohio's Nimrods Indicated by Licenses

Ohio's hunting season will be opened officially Friday at 12 noon. The season on game birds closes Nov. 15 and on rabbits Jan. 1. Probably more hunters will be in the field than in the past four years. All places which sell hunting licenses report that they have sold more to date than they had at this time in the previous four years. Also a number of non-resident licenses have been sold. These may be obtained at the county Clerk of Courts office in the court house.

The season's prospects are that the game situation will be about the same this year as last. O. H. Neimeyer, game protector, said today. Pheasants may be a little more plentiful in some sections of the county farmers reported, although in the past few years there has been a dearth of these game birds. Although there is no definite reason for this some blame has been laid to foxes and crows.

Rabbit Reports Vary.

As for rabbits, reports are conflicting, some sections of the county report that they are more numerous and others say that not many rabbits have been noticed.

Guy Hord, a farmer from the northeastern part of the county, says that around his section birds and rabbits are scarce but that there are many coon. So many in fact that they are becoming a nuisance to the farmers, some having even built dens in hollow fence posts.

The best pheasant hunting in the state can still be found in Woods county if a hunter plans a trip, reports from that county indicate.

Some Shells Available.

Some, chiefly 12 gauge shotgun shells are plentiful while hunters owning guns of a different gauge may find it difficult to find shells later in the season, dealers report. They have been able to get hold of more ammunition this season than in the war years but the greater number of hunters partially accounts for the fact that there still is no abundance.

There are a number of things which hunters and trappers are to be reminded of before the season starts, Neimeyer stated. They will be allowed to have only one days bag limit in their possession. In past years a hunter was allowed to have two days limit in his possession. Persons who make hunting trips and bring back more than the limit will have a little trouble explaining, the game protector said.

Persons caught putting traps out before noon Friday whether they are set or not will also get into hot water, he added.

Limit 2 Per Day.

The limit on pheasants will be two per day or two in possession. The limit on rabbits will be four. Some of the other game on which the season will be opened Friday noon are raccoon, opossum, skunk, mink and muskrat. Hungarian partridge and grouse. Hunters will be allowed two coon, two partridge and two grouse. There is no limit on the others.

Hunting or trapping will not be allowed on Sundays and hunters must not be in the field for the purpose of getting pheasants, rabbits, partridge or grouse before 7:30 a. m. or after 5:30 p. m. Neimeyer explained. Coon hunting must be done between the hours of 6 p. m. and 6 a. m.

Also as a courtesy to the farmer and in the best interests of the sport, aspiring nimrods should ask the farmers' permission before they hunt on his land, Neimeyer reminded.

Ohio State Leads Loop In Statistics

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 13—Ohio State, taking over the Western conference rushing lead with an average of 223 yards per game, springs its power Saturday on Illinois, which paces the Big Nine in the title chase but is ranked sixth offensively and fourth defensively.

While Northwestern's ground attack was nearly stalled against Indiana last week, the Buckeyes replaced the Wildcats as the best running team and also kept their lead on total offense. Combining averages of 223 yards by running and 109 by passing, Ohio State's total per game is 332. Northwestern, dropping to second on rushing with 222.8 has a total offensive record of 308.2. Michigan is third in this department with 284.6.

Indiana maintains its passing lead with an average of 130.6 yards gained per game, while Purdue is second with 115.8. The Boilermakers are the only team in the the conference to gain more yards through the air than on the ground. They have a 112.4 average by rushing.

Holding Wisconsin only to 41 yards by running last week, Iowa replaced Indiana as top defensive team, holding opponents to a 116.8 average along the ground. The Hoosiers' pass defense, however, is tops after limiting foes to an overhend gain of 42 yards.

But on net gain, Iowa is ahead by nailing down opposition to an average 196.6 yards compared with Indiana's job of 201.8.

Although leading the Big Nine title race, the Illini's total offense record is a 231.8 yard average, while opponents have made a net gain of 238.4 against them.

Snatches of Sports

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 — The United States Golf association is polling the competitors in the 1946 amateur championship as to whether they'd like to have the tourney returned to all match play .... Recalling the comments heard at Baltusrol, this corner's guess would be that most of the top players would be against it ....They had enough trouble with those 18-hole "sudden death" rounds as it was without adding one or two more....Likewise, the best amateurs got that way by competing against the pros in medal tournaments—Cary Middlecoff and Frank Stranahan even won over the pros—and a lot of them merely "play the card" and figure if they have good enough medal scores, they'll win the match, too.

Hockey Season Proving Tough in 2 Divisions

By The Associated Press

As the American Hockey league winds up the first month of the 1946-47 season, early season predictions about the fine calibre of play have been more than substantiated.

The race in the Western division, especially, is being hard fought, with any of the five teams conceded a chance of finishing on top. Indianapolis is the current leader by one point, while Cleveland and Pittsburgh are tied for second place with Buffalo and St. Louis fourth.

In the eastern half, Hershey is in the lead, likewise with a one-point margin over New Haven. The Springfield Indians moved into third place last night by defeating the Philadelphia Rockets 7-3. Providence was dropped to fourth place.

Green Bay Packer Tops National Pro Grid Loop

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 — Ted Fritsch, the power man of the Green Bay Packers attack, has replaced veteran Ward Cuff of Chicago's Cardinals as top scorer of the National Football league.

The husky Packer fullback ran up 11 points against the Cards Sunday on a touchdown, field goal and two conversions to boost his point total to 54. Cuff only picked up one point in the contest for a total of 47 and dropped to third place behind Pittsburgh's Bill Dudley who has 49.

Dudley, although stopped cold by the Detroit Lions in his last outing, still ranked No. 1 among the ground-gainers with a total of 443 yards according to official league statistics released today.

TWO FIGHTERS JOIN HEAVY CONTENDERS

Ezzard Charles, Jim Ritchie Hope for Crack at Louis.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati and Jim Ritchie of St. Louis, virtually unknown to boxing fans, have joined the list of contenders who hope to get a crack at Joe Louis' heavyweight title.

The two surprised fans last night in the first bouts of the so-called "eliminations" that promoter Mike Jacobs believes will produce a capable challenger for Louis next year.

Charles survived a nine-count knockdown in the third round, but rallied to gain a unanimous 10-round decision over Cleveland's Jimmy Bivins at Pittsburgh while Ritchie gained a 10-round draw with Joe Maxim of Cleveland at the Kiel auditorium in St. Louis.

In a third bout at Buffalo, Veteran Lee Oma of Detroit walloped Joe Muscato in a 10-rounder to remain a serious contender. Jersey Joe Walcott, of Camden, and Elmer "Violent" Ray, of Hastings, Fla. now of Minneapolis, tangle at Madison Square Garden Friday night in a fourth elimination affair.

Bivins, highly regarded in many quarters, gained only three rounds on the officials' cards, Charles winning seven despite being floored in the third. It was his 11th straight victory.

MARSEILLES CRUSHES NEW BLOOMINGTON

Marseilles opened their season at New Bloomington last night with a smashing 60 to 4 victory. The high scorer for the contest was Marseilles center Parsell who sank eight goals for 16 points. New Bloomington scored a goal in the first and last quarter.

In the reserve contest Marseilles won a close one over the New Bloomington reserves 16 to 15. A junior high school game was also played, New Bloomington defeating Morral 17 to 11.

Penn Smells Upset Victory Over Army

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13—Pennsylvania Coach George Munger let it be known today that "we may have an upset" when his team meets Army Saturday in Philadelphia's football game of the year.

But, said Munger, there are two big "ifs" involved.

". . . If the Army is not in the proper mental attitude and should make mistakes and if we should get the breaks. . . ."

And then the 34-year-old coach got down to points.

"The Army has one of the most dangerous passers in college ranks in Arnold Tucker but we also have a good pair—Bob Evans and Skippy Minisi.

"Don't ask me to compare Doc Blanchard with our fullbacks but we are pretty deep there and Ed Allen and Bill Luongo can be counted on for a fine job."

"This game is a great opportunity for our players," said Munger. "Physically I think we will be at top form. We came out of the Columbia game in good shape. Frank Jenkins (one of the nation's finest ends), who hasn't played since the Navy game, is ready again and our backfield appears fit.

"Up front we have plenty of weight but Army's more experienced. All in all it should be a terrific game. The boys want to win this one more than any other."

The game, a sellout for two months, will draw 78,000 to Franklin field.

CABBIES SET FOR MENDON GRIDDERS

Tickets Purchased Saturday Good for Tonight's Game.

Marion's Cabbies will play their ninth game of the season tonight at Harding stadium against the Mendon semi-pros who operate out of Celina.

A reason for the Columbus Rens not showing up last Saturday night has finally been established. Their manager contacted the officers of the Safety Cab team to say that the bus in which they started to Marion lost a wheel making the trip impossible. This resulted in turning away a crowd which has been estimated at approximately 1,500 persons. All who kept their tickets for that contest will be admitted to tonight's game.

Mendon is reported to be a revived semi-pro team, most of its players having had extensive experience before the war. They have been playing clubs from the western part of the state and also against some semi-pro outfits in eastern Indiana. The team has a line that averages 185 and the backs average 171. Their backfield, however, has three players who are over 180, the 155-pound quarterback bringing down their average.

The heaviest man on the starting team is Bollenbacker, a 205-pound tackle, and Bumgardener, the quarterback, is the lightest. Their coach is L. A. Schweiterman who tips the scales at 190 and plays left tackle. His brother, L. B. Schweiterman, plays next to him at guard and is a 195-pounder.

This team may prove to be another like Fort Wayne with a smoothly geared offensive since they have been playing in the same class as the Fort Wayne club.

PECKINPAUGH GETS BUFFALO POSITION

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 13 — Roger Peckinpaugh yesterday was appointed general manager of the Buffalo club of the International league.

One time vice president, manager and general manager of the Cleveland Indians, Peckinpaugh succeeded Stanley (Bucky) Harris., who left the Bisons to become manager of the New York Yankees.

John Gehm, president of the Buffalo club, announced Peckinpaugh's appointment. Peckinpaugh starred as a shortstop for Washington in 1924 and 1925 when it won the American league pennant. In 1925 he was named the league's most valuable player.

He managed the Cleveland Indians in 1941 and later became general manager. He left the club after Bill Veeck and others bought it this year.

O.W.U. SWIMMING SET

DELAWARE—An intercollegiate swimming team will resume activity at Ohio Wesleyan university after war-time suspension of the sport, with "Doc" W. C. Freeman coaching the aquatic squad. A 16-meet schedule has been developed, opening with Western Reserve Dec. 7.

Junior High All-Stars Prep For Grid Fight With Bexley

Pete Howison, Kenny Somerlot and Darl Gatchell, junior high school coaches of the city, have spent the last seven practice days working with the junior high All-Stars preparing them for the tilt to be played against the Bexley freshmen tomorrow night at Harding stadium.

The team which will meet Bexley will be chosen from the ninth graders of the junior highs of the city. This will be a preview of future Harding talent in that all the players who will take the field against Bexley will next year move up to Harding where they will be eligible to play on the varsity and the junior varsity football teams.

Central Whipped Bexley

Central has already played Bexley once having turned in a 20 to 14 victory. In that game the Central gridders were outweighed a great deal at each position and Pete Howison the Central coach says that his team caught him off balance. When the Columbus school comes to Marion he expects them to be a lot tougher than the squad which his Central team played against.

Darl Gatchell the Vernon coach has been coaching the ends on the team, Kenny Somerlot the Edison coach is handling the line and Pete Howison handles the backfield. All of the plays used will be Central's although fundamentally all of the teams have been using the same plays this season.

Short Workout Time

The chief problem facing the coaches for this contest is the short time they have to work with the team. They have not had long to do this but the boys are all showing good spirit.

Injuries are not expected to slow the team down although several of the boys who may have seen action will not get in. They are halfback Dowler of Vernon who suffered a broken collar bone in the last Vernon-Edison game, end Bechtel of Central who suffered a broken elbow, and Spence of Central.

WOOSTER, O., Nov. 13— An eight-game schedule was announced today for the Wooster college Scots' 1947 football season. The schedule: Oct. 3, at Findlay; Oct. 10, Kent State; Oct. 17, at Denison; Oct. 24, Muskingum; Nov. 1, Oberlin; Nov. 8, Akron; Nov. 15, at Heidelberg, and Nov. 22, at Mt. Union.

WESLEYAN BISHOPS READY FOR DENISON

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 13 — Nearing the close of a grid season that has run a wide range of high and low points, Ohio Wesleyan's Battling Bishops face Denison at Granville Saturday in the Ohio finale for Gauthier-coached team. After meeting Denison's Big Red, the Bishops head south for a closing game with Rollins college, at Orlando, Fla., on Friday night, Nov. 22.

The Bishops know they've been through a rough season. Still riddled by injuries, Ohio Wesleyan hopes to break its losing stretch against Denison. Saturday's game with Kent State which featured a Bishop offense which never did get started, was the "low" point of the year, Coach George Gauthier believes, and "It's probably due to a long series of hard games and injuries which have led to a lull that must be broken for the final two tilts of the year.

Practice sessions this week have been eased up a bit to get the boys back in good trim for Saturday's game and to get the injured list back ready for action.

Despite the two losses in a row, Ohio Wesleyan isn't having such a bad season, according to the record books. In eight games played, the Bishops have scored 106 points as against 73 for opponents, and all of those points have been scored by four teams.

The Red and Black has won four, lost three and tied one, with two games yet to go. Gauthier's team holds a definite edge over Denison but will face a tough Rollins team as the under-dogs.

None of the players on the league first string received a unanimous vote of five, four being the most awarded any one player. The players who received four votes were Tennant, Wagner, Maniaci, and D. Bell.

Jerry Kingsmore, Marysville athletic director, president of the league presided at the meeting and plans for the coming basketball and football seasons were made. At present the basketball schedule for the league has not been completed but will be soon.

Head football coaches present at the meeting were Gene Fetter, St. Mary; Dick Fetter, Richwood; Bob Blose, Mt. Gilead; Paul Wenzer, Marysville; Fenton Wolfe, Carey and Bob Cornell, Sunbury.

The invocation was given by Rev. Father William J. Spickerman of St. Mary Catholic church.

ALL-AMERICA FUTURE BOOK

There's a merry battle on for All-America end positions and two of the outstanding flankers in the country are Hubert Bechtol of the University of Texas and Burr Baldwin of the University of California at Los Angeles. Both play left end. Incidentally, so does a Mr. Barney Poole of Army.

Bechtol is seeking one of the two end positions on The Associated Press All-America for the third time. He made the last two teams.

Hub, one of the best pass catchers in the southwest, is a 20-year-old senior from Lubbock, Tex., stands one inch over six feet and tips the beam at 190.

Baldwin is more matured, having returned to UCLA after service in the Army. He is 24, comes from Bakersfield, Calif., and is six-foot-one. Baldwin, a senior, has won two other football letters playing for the Bruins.

INDIANAPOLIS CAGERS WIN YEAR'S OPENER

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 13—The Indianapolis Kautskys were in the undefeated ranks of the National Basketball league today after opening their season at home with a 51-47 triumph over the Oshkosh All-Stars before an estimated crowd of 6,000.

Only seven league games have been played thus far in the senior pro circuit and four teams remain unbeaten. Buffalo, Anderson, Ind., Rochester, N. Y., and the Kautskys, whose victory last night knocked Oshkosh from the undefeated list.

Indianapolis, with an 11-point lead in the third quarter, had to quell a strong rally by the All-Stars before winning. Gene Englund, held to one field goal through three quarters, hit five one-handed pivot shots — which made him famous during his playing days for Wisconsin — to tie the score 41-all before the Kautskys made their final bid.

At Detroit, Toledo cashed in on 12 free throws to win 46-40. Only 1,200 fans turned out as Detroit made its first home appearance, and went down for its second league loss.

No games are scheduled tonight, but tomorrow night Youngstown travels to Syracuse and Anderson is at Toledo.

Pittsburgh Cager Leads Pro Scoring

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Brooms Abramovic, the former Salem (W. Va.) college whiz now playing for Pittsburghs Ironmen, is pacing the Basketball Association of America's scorers with 80 points in five games.

A 26-point splurge against Providence Monday night enabled Abramovic to hold a five point edge over lanky Chuck Calvert of Chicago Stags. Calvert tallied 18 points against New York Monday for a five game total of 75, according to official league figures released today.

TO FIGHT AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 13 — Middleweight Irish Mickey Doyle and Bobby Berger of Chicago will fight at Civic auditorium here tonight in the 10 round feature bout of a show which includes an eight-round semi-final between Frankie Gerrard of Toledo and Paul Carbetta of Mansfield.

Forecaster Sees Ohio State In 20 To 14 Upset Over Illinois

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 13—Another round of gridiron guessing for major midwestern games Saturday:

Ohio State 20, Illinois 14—If the Buckeyes win, it would be classed as an upset, although, statistically speaking, Ohio State has a wide margin offensively over the current title race leader. . . . The Buckeyes top the conference in total offense with an average gain of 332 yards per game to Illinois' 231.8. . . . They have outrushed the Illini 223 yards to 181.2 and outpassed them 109 yards to 50.6. . . . George Spencer, who tossed three touchdown passes against Pitt last week, and Illinois' Perry Moss should provide a great aerial duel, but we figure the Bucks' bullet backs like Bob Brugge and Alex Verdova plus the plunging power of Joe Whisler will pay off. . . . If the aggressive Buckeyes play at their peak, like they did in knocking off Northwestern, Illinois will get a surprise. . . .

Notre Dame 27, Northwestern 6—The Wildcats' only chance at victory, or even scoring, appears to be via the air lanes since the Irish line is rated one of the best in the country. . . . Unless Coach Lynn Waldorf can whip up a sustained passing attack Northwestern must be ruled out as much of a threat on the basis of past aerial work. . . .

Iowa, 27, Minnesota 13—The Hawkeyes, after limiting Wisconsin to a rushing gain of 41 yards while winning 21-7 last week, have emerged as the Big Nine's best defensive unit. . . . Minnesota won its first conference victory last week by minimizing Bob DeMoss' passing to beat Purdue, but this time the Gophers not only will meet a good defensive club but also one which has averaged 210 yards a game by rushing. . . .

Michigan 21, Wisconsin 7—The Wolverines are geared to win their final two Big Nine games and thus stand a good chance of capturing the crown (depending on Illinois' fortunes with Ohio State and Northwestern. . . . The Badgers figure to lose, but they are capable of pulling an upset like the time they romped over Ohio State 20-7 and nearly toppled Illinois before the Illini rallied for the two last quarter touchdowns for a 27-21 decision.

Tucson's Pride Is Baseball Prospect

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz. — It came as no surprise to Arizona when Alex Kellner of Tucson was named the best prospect for organized baseball at the end of the national semi-pro tourney in Wichita, Kas.

Around these parts it is felt the 21-year-old southpaw is on the ladder leading to the majors.

Kellner was trained for pro ball by his father from the time he was old enough to pitch rocks at tin cans.

Johnny Kellner, the father, pitched a no-hit, no-run game to open the local stadium 25 years ago and has been a good teacher.

As a 16-year-old high school student, Alex was given a chance to pitch for the Tucson Cowboys in the now dormant Arizona-Texas League. He won.

Muskogee of the Western Association picked him up. He finished the season with an 11-7 record.

In 1943 he was signed by Birmingham of the Southern Association, but before the season opened he was called into the Navy. Kellner and Birmingham since haven't been able to agree on money. The club carries him on its roster and Kellner thinks the salary difference will be ironed out by next spring.

Playing for a service team team against the Santa Ana All-Stars, coached by Joe DiMaggio, Kellner is reported to have fanned Max West of the Cincinnati Reds five times to win one game, 5-2.

Bullet Hits Rock; Rock Rips Rabbit

By The Associated Press

SEMINOLE, Okla.—Ben Hines not only produced evidence—he also had witnesses to prove his hunting story.

Hines says he shot at a rabbit with a rifle and missed but the bullet struck a rock. The rock then hit the rabbit, breaking its back.

In addition to corroboration from hunting companions, Hines produced the rock, with a patch of rabbit hair securely stuck on its surface.

SLIM CHANCE O.S.U.'S KRALL WILL SEE PLAY

Upper Sandusky's Russ Wolfe To Take Place Saturday.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13—Chances were slim today that speedy Jerry Krall of Toledo would be recovered sufficiently from a knee injury to play for Ohio State against Illinois Saturday, and Coach Paul Bixler was preparing 160-pound Russ Wolfe of Upper Sandusky to fill the gap as a left halfback replacement.

Bixler moved Wolfe from the right halfback spot in the fourth team to third-string left half at yesterday's practice. Tommy James of Massillon is starting left half, and Rodney Swinehart of Wooster moved up from third to second team left halfback in place of Krall.

The Bucks coach has discarded an earlier plan to transfer Tommy Phillips, the Berea triple-threat back, from signal-calling to left half.

During yesterday's workout, in which Ohio Jayvees used Illini formations, right tackle Chuck Csuri was kept on the sidelines with an injured knee, while a fellow Clevelander, Forrest (Bones) Hamilton, took the practice bumps. Csuri is expected to be ready for Saturday's game, however.

Also missing from the drill was Ernie Parks, second-string tight end, who returned last night from Canton where he had been called Saturday because his 25-month-old son was ill.

ARMY GUARD NAMED "LINEMAN OF WEEK"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 — Joe Steffy, Army guard, smeared Notre Dame all over the place in last Saturday's "Game of the Year" at the Yankee stadium. For his stellar performance the Cadet from Chattanooga was named today as the lineman of the week in the sixth Associated Press weekly poll of the season.

"Steffy was superb defensively and offensively amongst an array of outstanding stars." This tribute to Steffy's feats came from Herman Hickman, Army line coach, who seldom goes overboard on a player.

Steffy had the stiffest kind of opposition in the balloting from ends Alton Baldwin, of Arkansas; Neil Armstrong, Oklahoma Aggies; Kelly Mote, Duke, and Jim Martin, Notre Dame; tackles Ed. Champagne, Louisiana State and George Sullivan, Notre Dame, and centers Chuck Bednarik, Pennsylvania; Dick Scott, Navy; Paul Duke, Georgia Tech and Bryant Meeks, South Carolina.

Diamond Fans Outeat Football's Followers

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill. — There's an appreciable difference in the appetites of sports crowds report the vendors who peddle pop corn and hot dogs during the summer at Wrigley Field, home of the Chicago Cubs, and during the fall at Dyrhe stadium, gridiron base of the Northwestern university Wildcats. Baseball fans buy and consume more food than the football faithful.

Toledo Football Teams Still Booking Games For This Year

By DON STILL
AP Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13—The football season is drawing to a close everywhere in Ohio except Toledo it seems.

They're still booking games for 1946 up there. The University of Toledo is seeking an opponent for the first annual Glass Bowl game Dec 7, and apparently Toledo Waite High school wants an after-season contest, too. Chick Baker of the Toledo Blade sports staff writes that Waite Coach Jack Mollenkopf issued a challenge to any team in the nation after Waite handed Massillon its worst drubbing in modern history, 40 to 6. . . Why not have Waite play Toledo Libbey, Chuck???? That's give 'em a chance to avenge Libbey's 8-6 triumph, the only blot on Waite's record this season. After all, Libbey got a second chance at Toledo Woodward and erased an early-season scoreless tie to the tune of 40-13.

Coach Paul Wenzel's Marysville high gridders didn't cut any wide swath in championship football circles this season, but there was one worry that didn't plague Paul—eligibility. When scholastic ratings for the period covering the football season were released, seven of Paul's first team were on the honor roll, the other four missed by the slightest margin and there wasn't a failing grade on the 35-man squad. "It may not be a record," Paul declared, "but it was sure something not to be worried over losing a player because of poor grades."

Ups and Ups (Not Downs)

Football Coach Paul Ponzurie of Elida high contributes the following in "The Coaches' Corner," a feature of the Lima News' sports pages: "Working at Elida the past few years has been a wonderful experience with its up and downs . . . etc." Elida just concluded its second straight unbeaten, untied season for 20 victories in a row. Whaddya mean "ups and downs," Paul????

Wrestling Thursday

A lot of wrestling is on the weekly menu Thursday night at the Marion Armory when Promoter Fishbaugh presents a double main go card of two ninety minute matches, the best two out of three falls to win.

This card will bring in a couple of new faces, one of them will be the latest Canadian grappler to come to this country, Ken Larsen of Hamilton, Ont. Ken is a young boy with a nice body and plenty of speed and he will need that speed when he meets his opponent Thursday night in the person of Whitey Walberg.

The other main go brings back that veteran, Steve Nenoff, who has started on a nice string of wins in Marion and his opponent will be Al Szasz of St. Louis. Al appeared here about three years ago but the Army took him away and now he is back at grappling. Szasz is one of the strangest boys in the game.

A ten minute preliminary will open the show at 8:30. Call Markert & Lewis Cigar store early for your best ringside seats. — Adv.

The body was brought to the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street.

STEEL FIRMS SEEN HOLDING COST DOWN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—The Iron Age, national metalworking paper, said today the steel industry was expected to withhold any general price increase for its products at least until wage demands of the steel workers' union were made known.

Announcement of higher prices for some steel products showing little or no profit probably will be made around Dec. 1 or shortly thereafter, the publication said.

Already, it added, steelmakers were faced with increased costs because of a net rise of $2.50 a ton in the price of important open hearth grades of iron and steel scrap.

"Because of the tight situation," the Iron Age said, "most orders being placed were on an open basis—as the broker obtained the material, he delivered it to the steel company."

Reporting dealers "in no hurry to fill the orders," the paper said "it may be at least a week or is clarified and before normal retwo before the entire scrap list lationships existing between various grades of scrap in pre-war periods are reestablished."

Steel ingot output this week was placed 91.5 per cent of capacity, unchanged from last weeks peacetime peak level.

"DELINQUENCY" IS TOPIC OF P.-T.A. DISCUSSION

Panel Outlines Methods of Helping Children.

A panel discussion on "Delinquency" was presented when the Central Junior High P.-T.A. met Tuesday night, Nov. 5, at the school. Those taking part in the anel were Adjutant Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army, Ralph Carhart of the Humane Society, Police Chief William E. Marks and A. T. Allen. Adjutant Nisiewicz gave a view of how each person can help to decrease delinquency by being a friend to children and showing them that they have a place in the world. Mrs. Harold Fetter was program chairman.

The meeting, in charge of Frank Eyster, opened with group singing led by William Dowler. Mrs. John Clark conducted devotions on the subject, "Your Responsibility to Your Child." Mrs. R. Donaugh gave a report on membership. Miss Ruth Rowe was elected to the office of second vice president, and Mrs. Carl Shults was appointed health chairman to take the place of Mrs. Harold Coffey. The group voted to sponsor a Girl Scout troop at Central. It was also decided to hold an executive meeting preceding each meeting instead of the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Vexed Taxpayer Has Own Spelling Style

By The United Press

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. — The Doylestown Daily Intelligencer recently printed in its entirety a letter from an advocate of less public spending:

"In regards to a New high school we don't want it. our Children got their edication in this one, and it good enough for others. and we are satisfied. I have talked to people that have Visited the school. and they say we have a grand high school. it would be a crime, to put sutch a dept on the people. and they raised the school tax 4 mills this year I think the school board must be related to Roosevelt spending other people money. I think it a sham that we have a half dozen sweel heads to run Doylestown. I do hope the taxpers will waken up before election. taxpayer and property owner."

If He Came to Dinner Family Would Starve

By The United Press

VINCENNES, Ind.—Meat prices being as high as they are, here's the man not to invite to dinner. He is the former Marine Corps "champion chow eater," Earle R. Wolfe.

The veteran of numerous Pacific campaigns has been known to put away a meal consisting of 12 fish dinners, French fried potatoes, combination salad and jello, four quarts of milk, six quarts of ice cream, three malteds, five pies, six sandwiches, five tomato salads and four glasses of orange juice—all at one sitting.

"Butter Ball" Type The Best Husband, Professor Declares

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Nov. 13—Take it from a Harvard professor, girls—give your engagement ring back to the "he-man" and march a "butterball" to the altar.

That—in essence—is the advice of Harvard anthropologist Earnest A. Hooton.

Prof. Hooton told an audience of men and women at Temple Israel Hall last night that:

The fat man—or "butter-ball type," loves physical comfort, relaxation, eating, ceremony and formality, has an even emotion and a love of people. He is a "remarkable family man and a good husband."

But the "he-man" is an anthropoid of a different prospect. According to Prof Hooton, the "he-man" bangs his heels as he walks around the house and complains about not having enough exercise, and grows old quickly.

Then there's the "string-bean" suitor. He, too, is to be avoided, according to Prof. Hooton.

The "string-bean," it seems, has a tendency to sociophobia, a dislike of people, and he suffers from chronic fatigue, inhibitions and a voice that "he is always swallowing in his throat."

If you can't snare a "butterball" there's still some hope in what Prof. Hooton calls the "in-between" type.

Most men are "in-betweens," says Prof. Hooton. They combine all the annoying characteristics of the "he-man" and the "string bean" and the lovableness of the fat man.

Pension Society Hears Talk by Mrs. Pridgen

Mrs. Charles Pridgen was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion County Friday afternoon in the Eagles' hall. Taking her text from the 21st chapter of Revelations she said: "Heaven is a prepared place fo ra prepared people. John, on the Island of Patmos not only had the faith but got a vision of heaven. In heaven, God shall wipe away all tears, no death, no sorrow or fears; those whose names are written in the Lamb's Book of God will be there in the eternal home of God. You either are or are not ready for heaven."

"America," sung by the group and the salute to the Flag, also by the audience, opened the meeting. Prayer was by Mrs. Elizabeth Houser. Music included a song, "I'll Be There," by the group, a duet by Christian Ruth and W. E. Sergent, "Shadow of the Cross," and several selections by Mrs. Pridgen, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Eva Parish. A song, "Wonderful Peace," by the group closed the program. Contributions were received for the flower fund by Mrs. Parish, chairman, and the closing prayer was by Mrs. Pridgen. Reports on illness in the membership were given by Mrs. Houser and William Porter.

U. S., BRITAIN WORK ON UN VETO PLANS

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 13—The United States and Great Britain were reported working today on separate plans to restrict use of the veto in the United Nations security council.

Although details of the British plan were secret, it was understood to dove-tail into the American plan. An authoritative source said the British hoped to effect Big Five agreement on limited use of the veto which might satisfy small-power opponents.

The American plan was understood to propose restrictions in at least three ways:

1. To broaden UN existing rule against letting any Big Five power sit in judgment on council decisions arising from charges against itself. (The UN charter allows any one of the five to veto use of force against itself but not to vote on non-force measures.)

2. To allow any of the Big Five voluntarily to abstain from voting without having the failure to vote counted as a veto, as it might be now.

3. To classify as fully as possible security council decisions which are "procedural" (requiring only majority vote for decisions) and those which are "substantive" (requiring concurrence of the Big Five; that is the veto system.)

Food Rushed To Snowbound

Army Battles Drifts To Aid Stricken Colorado Counties.

By The Associated Press

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 13—Army vehicles bucked huge snowdrifts today to get food to hundreds of families and thousands of head of livestock as Red Cross headquarters was set up to relieve the suffering caused by southeastern Colorado's worst blizzard in years.

Planes stood by to fly hay to snowbound cattle and sheep which could not be reached by Army "weasels," trucks and bulldozers that plowed into drifts, some of them 10 to 18 feet high.

Fair skies were forecast for today's rescue efforts by the weather bureau which reported a foot-deep blanket of snow over most of the area four days after snow stopped falling in the week-long blizzard which has claimed 15 lives.

The Red Cross established headquarters at Colorado Springs to coordinate relief activities.

A seven-plane reconnaissance mission from Colorado Springs discovered many families in need of food and fuel in the Edison district 50 miles southeast of there. Sighting a distress signal—traced in the snow—William Hunt landed and was told by a rancher of the district's plight.

Five C-47 Army transport planes from Lowry field flew hay to a herd of 10,000 cattle reported "frozen in their tracks" in three feet of snow in Lincoln county. A private airline (United) put a plane at the disposal of the Red Cross for relief work.

the the board's offices were moved from the Marion Water Co. building on East Center street to their present location. The board was established here in December, 1942 with a volunteer staff. Later the board's jurisdiction in price control extended into Union, Morrow and Delaware counties, although rent control was limited to Marion county.

Most of the Marion OPA staff members whose jobs will come to an end Dec. 12 have been with the board for about a year. Working for the OPA for the longest period is Walter S. Shover, who started as a volunteer staff member for the Delaware board in 1942 and was transferred to the Marion board last Oct. 1 when the Delaware board was dissolved.

Also dissolved under OPA slashes will be Marions two price control panels, each including three volunteer members, whose duties were to act as negotiating bodies in settling price questions. One of the panels had charge of food, consumer goods and apparel and the other had charge of restaurants, services and other activities. Clarence Shockney was chairman of the board in charge of both panels.

Closing of OPA offices is nationwide and the Marion office is one of 38 in Ohio which shut down Nov. 4 on order from Cincinnati Director John E. Robinson Jr.

Barber Shaves Balloon To Pass Examination

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH — In the old days a barber got his apprentice training by washing shaving mugs and combing hair for a year. Today the business is all science.

At the Pennsylvania Institute of Barbering, the barbers of tomorrow are taught bacteriology, anatomy of the upper body, and scientific manipulation of the head and face muscles. The course lasts nine months for "the best barber training available."

The school "breaks in" student barbers on balloons. If a man can "shave" a balloon he is considered ready to start on human faces.

Many physically - handicapped war veterans are attending the school. They are provided with specially-designed movable stools which are attached to the ordinary chair.

General Douglas MacArthur was the youngest man ever to serve as superintendent of West Point.

6 KILLED IN BOMBING OF PALESTINE PATROL

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Nov. 13—Attackers described by police as Jewish extremists today ambushed a police dawn patrol, which daily combs railway lines for bombs, blasting its ramshackle hand-propelled trolley and killing all six officers aboard.

The "sulcide patrol," instituted two weeks ago when Irgun Zvai Leumi said it was launching an anti-railway drive, was ambushed at Beit Safafa on the outskirts of Jerusalem. The patrol had been appearing daily at the same spot, a few minutes after starting its track inspection tour from Jerusalem yards.

Killed were two British constables, one Arab sergeant and three Arab police officers.

Another train attack near Jaffa left a fireman and an Arab police guard wounded and stranded the day's first passenger train. In both attacks police said explosives buried between crossties were electrically detronated.

Today's attacks raised to 14 the number of blasts at railways in the past month.

MARION YOUTH

Chicago that Walker ran out of money, Sheriff Retterer reported and he sold his suitcase, including all its contents, to a man he met on the street for $8. He left his companion later Sunday and went to Ft. Wayne, Ind., remaining there until he returned to Marion, arriving here about 2 a. m. today.

A tip on the youth's identity came from persons, the sheriff said, who called his office when they had seen Walker with an unusually large amount of money.

McKinney told police he had left the money in his car intending to place it in a bank night depository, but said there was no parking place available and he had driven home, leaving the money in the car. Tuesday evening, the night the money was taken, he had parked the car in the rear of Central Junior High school while he went to a theater.

CHINESE TAOIST PRIESTS REVOLT AND KILL LEADERS

Burn Abbot, Layman on Huge Bonfire.

By The Associated Press

PEIPING, Nov. 13—Chinese police reported today that 36 priests in the famous Taoist Temple Paiyunkuan (White Cloud) revolted yesterday and burned to death the temple's abbot and its Taoist layman on a buge fonfire.

The police related this story:

The priest accused the two men of violating Taoist regulations. They smashed into the men's living quarters and dragged them out to the temple gate.

The priests beat the two men with clubs, trussed them with the ropes, flung them on a pile of firewood, doused them with gasoline and fired the bier.

Police found the totally charred bodies more than an hour later.

Twenty-seven of the priests surrendered and the other nine were turned over to police.

The abbot, An Shih-lin, was more than 50 years old. The layman, Pai Chin-yi, held no official title in the temple.

STATE STRENGTHENS OHIO MURDER CASE

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Nov. 13—The prosecution attempted today to strengthen its contention that Herman C. Laycock beat to death his ex-wife, Ciella, and then threw her body into Indian lake June 18.

D. D. Beech, an FBI agent who flew here from Miami, Fla., told the three-judge court that hair found on a shoe of Laycock, a 34-year-old Lima salesman, was similar to that of Mrs. Laycock, 35.

R. W. Flach, another FBI agent testified that stains on the divorcee's shoes appeared to have been caused by ashes. The state contends Laycock dragged the woman's body through a pile of ashes, en route to the lake.

Later, counsel for Laycock began cross-examination of Dr. A. J. McCracken, Logan county coroner, who testified Mrs. Laycock died of a severe beating and not of drowning.

Five photographs which the prosecution claimed showed bruises on the body of the 35-year-old woman, a Chicago store clerk, were introduced yesterday at the trial in which Laycock is charged with second degree murder.

The Judges and Laycock visited the Indian Lake cottage where the victim was visiting with Laycock the night of June 17. Counsel for both sides informed the court that both Laycock and his former wife had been drinking heavily before her death.

Coroner A. J. McCracken testified that the woman did not die from drowning, and Mary F. Abel, assistant prosecutor, said the state would try to show Laycock beat his ex-wife and dragged her body into the lake.

LEADERSHIP WOES BESET REPUBLICANS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—Leadership woes among house Republicans took a new turn today when a large bloc of self-styled G.O.P. "progressives" signaled quietly for a more emphatic voice in party councils.

While expressing hope of accomplishing their objective without an intra-party fight, spokesmen for the group told reporters they were ready for a showdown caucus battle, should that become necessary.

These spokesmen contend they represent a majority of the 246 Republicans who will be in the next house.

What they want particularly is more recognition on important committees and more voice in determining party legislative policy.

Will Confer Tomorrow

They may lay their grievances before the Republican house steering committee during meetings starting tomorrow. That is composed of 14 veteran house members headed by Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, slated to become speaker.

Should the self-described "progressives" fail to make any headway with the steering committee members, they plan to carry their case to the party caucus. That gathering of all Republican representatives-elect in advance of the Jan. 3 convening of congress is the final authority on party matters.

CONGRESS CANDIDATES LIST CAMPAIGN COSTS

Smith Included in Report Issued Today.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13—Congressman-elect Raymond H. Burke of Hamilton (3rd district) had financial backing of $8,347 according to the report of a committee sponsoring his candidacy filed with the secretary of state today. The committee listed receipts of that amount.

He defeated Democrat incumbent Edward J. Gardner also of Hamilton.

Congress-elect Cliff Clevenger of the 5th district spent $1,100 personally while his committee spent $1,515. Congressman-elect P. W. Griffith of the 15th district reported receipts of $1,145 and expenditures of $1,728. Congressman-elect Frederick C. Smith of the 8th district spent $625 and his committee $2,608.

Wesley W. Purdy of Mansfield, Democrat congressional candidate in the 17th district, reported expenditures of $3,605 in his successful campaign. He had contributions of $380. Congressman William R. Thom of Canton, 16th district, reported receipts and expenditures of $1,601. He was defeated.

Nimrod Gets His Deer With a Clothes Line

By The United Press

WEBSTER, Pa. — Philip Costas had no rifle handy, but he didn't let that deer get away.

Clothes line in hand, Costas began chasing a deer he had seen from the house. The deer, pursued by three dogs, became exhausted. Costas slipped the clothes line around its neck and led it home.

The big 7-point buck was an out-of-season bag, however, and Deputy Game Protector Paul Leska made Costas release it.

TURF YIELDS RECORD TAKE TO TAX FUND

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13—Ohio collected a record $651,011 in taxes on pari-mutuel wagers and other revenues at horse race tracks this year, compared with $531,512 in 1945, the best previous year, the state racing commission reported today.

Bettors wagered $32,317,812 at Buckeye tracks, about $5,000,000 more than last year.

Revenue derived from Ohio's mutuel tax ranging from one to three per cent, depending on the amount wagered, grossed $514,957 and other taxes on admissions, refreshments and the like brought in $16,575.

Betting this year aggregated $30,761,868 on runners and $1,755,945 on standard-breds.

CLOTHING PRICES TO STAY ABOUT SAME, FIRMS SAY

No Increase Expected Unless Materials, Labor Advance.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Clothing prices generally will remain at about their current levels unless there are sharp increases in fabric or labor costs, manufacturers indicated today.

A possible exception is in rayon goods where an immediate increase in yarn prices, estimated at about 12 per cent, is expected to raise fabric costs from 15 to 20 per cent.

Isadore Agree, general manager of the National Dress Manufacturers association, said dress manufacturers want to hold to their present price lines as long as possible.

As evidence of this, he said "spring openings began a week ago, and manufacturers now are taking orders on the basis of prices established before decontrol.

He added that "many manufacturers have decided to absorb increased costs wherever possible."

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 — Ted Husing may have started something for veteran radio personalities when he turned from sports directing on CBS to become a "disc jockey" on the New York station WHN.

Andre Baruch, with many years of network experience as an announcer and microphone M. C., and his singing wife, Bea Wain, who formerly was a regular in the Hit Parade of CBS, have signed for a similar job on another local, WMCA. However, they intend to give it a different twist by appearing as "Mr. and Mrs. Music."

In radio parlance, a "disc jockey" is one who runs a program made up almost entirely of records, primarily popular music, between which are inserted chatter, announcements and the like.

The main attraction seems to be the pay, for it is reported to be pretty good, as much as $100,000 and upwards per year. The amount is covered solely by the number of sponsors taking up the time between records.

With the announced objective of "promoting international understanding," a new half-hour dramatic series titled "World Security Workshop," is to be opened on ABC at 10 p. m. Thursday. Scripts are being selected by a board of judges and will start with "Citizen Delavan," story of an atomic scientist.

TRIESTE SETTLEMENT DEADLOCK MAY END

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Several cracks showed up today in the time-hardened disagreement between Russia and the western powers over disposition of strategic Trieste, but diplomats were uncertain whether they foretold a real break in the Italian peace treaty deadlock.

They came apparent despite a warning by Secretary of State Byrnes that the United States could not continue making compromises on the Trieste issue—and an assertion by Foreign Minister Molotov that Russia insisted on changes in some Paris peace conference provisions for governing the Trieste territory.

Molotov also raised one new dispute by asking a treaty provision fixing a deadline of possibly three or four months, after the treaty becomes effective, for removal of foreign troops from Trieste. The troops there are American and British.

Byrnes and Molotov joined argument repeatedly during a three and one-half hour session of the Big Four foreign ministers council last night, then called a halt until 4 p. m. today after they agreed, along with British Foreign Minister Bevin and Deputy French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville, to return to their showdown debate.

Diplomats who sat in on the session reported it was by no means all negative and had several results which might lead to a break in the main deadlock blocking completion of an Italian peace treaty.

Petition filed—Walter Straw against Jane Straw; grounds neglect; Carter M. Patton, plaintiff's attorney.

Petition granted—Lucy Skivers against Clifford Skivers; divorce granted plaintiff; grounds neglect; custody of six minor children granted to plaintiff; Homer E. Johnson, plaintiff's attorney.

Answer and cross petition filed—Louise Lowry against Leroy Lowry; answer and cross petition filed by defendant denying allegations of petition and asking for divorce from plaintiff on grounds of gross neglect; Paul G. Simpson, defendant's attorney; Homer E. Johnson, plaintiff's attorney.

Suit Dismissed.

The $25,000 judgment suit of Anna B. Sears of Crawford county against Dr. Clifford G. Smith, Marion physician, has been dismissed from common pleas court on motion of the plaintiff. The plaintiff had asked judgment for X-ray burns she claimed to have suffered in a series of treatments given her by the defendant beginning Aug. 16, 1937. Arden W. Wisman of Bucyrus was attorney for the plaintiff and Guthery, Harmon and Conkle and Edwin B. Spohn were attorneys for the defendant.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses have been issued in probate court to Daniel F. Schlecht, machinist, of Rock Creek, and Alma Lucille Gleason of Marion; Robert Charles Clements, hatchery worker, of Upper Sandusky, and Patricia Ann Cusick, secretary, of Marion.

FRANCO CALLS UN POLICY DANGEROUS

By The Associated Press

MADRID, Nov. 13—Generalissimo Francisco Franco maintained today that United Nations isolation of Spain would greatly increase the possibility of war.

"Every action of violence and injustice always tend rather towards war than towards peace," Spain's chief of state said last night in answer to questions handed him by The Associated Press.

He said a diplomatic break would bring about "disunion among nations and dissension in the interior of many" and cost the UN prestige, and "the undermining and disunion of the latter would greatly increase the possibility of war."

(The UN general assembly, now meeting in New York, has on its agenda the question of what to do about the Spanish government. Poland has demanded the United Nations all break diplomatic relations with Franco. Secretary-General Trygve Lie has urged action by which "democratic government may be restored in Spain.")

Franco spoke of an "attempted plot of Soviet Communism to isolate Spain" and saw "an absolute cleavage between the calm attitude of peoples who are represented in the United Nations and that adopted by some of their representatives" in this matter.

He declared this was no' the "most opportune moment" to hold a Spanish election in view of "instigation to rebellion from abroad and international maneuvers and attacks against Spain."

Attendant Suspended From Lima Hospital

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13—Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, notified the state civil service commisson today of the suspension of attendant H. G. Hopkins for 15 days ending Nov. 20 "for neglect in connection with the escape of patients."

No details of the escape were given.

The commission also was notified by Lewis C. Rittmeyer, administrator at Dunham Tuberculosis hospital, Cincinnati, of the discharge effective yesterday of attendant Alta Fischer on a number of charges including neglect of duty, altercations with patients and guests, mistreatment of patents and errors in medication.

Miss Fisher in a letter dated Nov. 5 denied the charges.

STOCK MARKET IN DOWNWARD DRIFT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 — The stock market drifted lower today, absorbing moderate liquidation without any precipitate decline.

Dealings were light after a moderately active opening, and the direction was downward. Support was uncovered for some issues after losses of fractions to 2 or more points were registered near the fourth hour.

Principal losers included General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Montgomery Ward, Goodyear, Goodrich, International Harvester, American Water Works, Baltimore and Ohio, International Nickel, Union Carbide, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet and Sears, Roebuck. Early advances were lost by Anaconda, Kenecott, Electric Power and Light, North American and Phelps Dodge.

Some recovery at times was displayed by U. S. Steel, American Telephone and Chrysler.

Bonds were narrow and commodities mixed.

Lower on the curb were Middle West Corp., Waltham Watch, Raytheon and United Light. Resistant were Hummel-Ross Fibre, St. Regis Paper and American Gas and Electric.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

LILLIAN, as usual, had made a difficult situation appear casual, and I mentally thanked her as I answered her question, although I was careful to let no hint of my gratitude show in my "telltale" face. The eyes of Helena Brixton and her daughter, Carolyn, were too keen and sharp for me to risk any carelessness.

"Yes, I was glad to have the equipment for which she asked," I said sedately. "She has a sick relative on her hands and the physician can't come out for several hours."

There was a question trembling on Helena's lips, but Lillian forestalled it.

"What ails her mother?" she asked, and I thanked my particular little joss that I had not specified the "relative" as I realized my father had done, and that he had not named the ailment, permitting me to conjure up a fictional one.

The Fictional Illness

"A rather severe attack of arthritis," I said, "with the heart acting up a bit. Fortunately I had everything she wanted."

"The 'Good Neighbor,' in person!" Lillian said mockingly. "What the borrowing countryside would do without you, I don't know."

The door opened as she finished speaking, and "Mr. K." came through it. As he moved with the effortless grace that is his, he spoke to my father.

"Mr. Underwood says that Mr. Brixton is feeling much better, and is getting hungry," he told my father as he sat down.

"Oh! oh! Poor Sam!" Helena exclaimed, but I noticed that her voice was not shrill as it had been when she was accusing me of divers crimes. She evidently stood in some awe of my father.

"Here we are, enjoying our supper, and that poor sick man is faint from hunger," she said. "Isn't there some way that something can be rushed up to him? I'd be glad to take it to him, if I could be permitted to do so."

"I'm sorry to contradict you, Helena," Katharine said coolly, "but Sam is not suffering. He is just healthy hungry, that is all, and Dr. Twitchell left it to my judgment as to the kind and amount of food he should have, and the time when it should be given to him. I already have told Katie about his tray, and I am sure it is about ready to be sent up with Jim. She said she would send it up about ten minutes after our supper started, so I am sure you need have no uneasiness about it."

A Plaintiff Voice

"Couldn't I take it up?" Helena asked plaintively.

"Dr. Twitchell will have to answer that question," Katharine said, with a respectful inclina of her head toward the elderly physician.

"I am sorry, Mrs. Brixton," Dr. Twitchell said, and I noticed with amusement that his voice was distinctly unctuous. "But I cannot permit you to see Mr. Brixton until after he has had his supper, rested a bit, and I have had a chance to look him over. Then, if he is in condition to warrant a visit from you and your daughter, and," his voiced deepend, "you can give me your word that you will say or do nothing to upset him, I will give you permission to see him. But his supper tray must go up now by Jim's hands."

No Further Protest

His voice was inexorable, and Helena evidently knew when she was "up against a stone wall," for she made no further protest.

"Thank you, Dr. Twitchell," she said prettily. "I will do everything just as you tell me."

"Then I am very sure you may see your husband," the old physician assured her, and I think everyone at the table echoed a sigh of relief that we were to be free for the rest of the meal, at least, from Helena's vagaries.

Secretly I was delighted at the promise which Dr. Twitchell had made, resolved to "put a flea in Katharine's ear" as soon as I got the opportunity, asking her to prolong the visit from Helena and Carolyn as long as was decently possible I was glad that I was able to corner her immediately after dinner while Lillian was ushering Helena and Carolyn back to her suite.

"I would have secret words with thee, Katrina," I burlesqued.
